A SILENT CITY — Telegraph Avenue in Berkeley was almost a ghost street last night as the city clamped its second straight curfew on the University of California city. This morning, however, at a special city council session, the city lifted the two-day dusk to dawn curfew. See another picture, page 5. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Wins Extradition Of Ray In King Slaying

Britain Grants Time For Appealing Case

LONDON (UPI) — London's chief magistrate today ordered James Earl Ray returned to the United States to stand trial for the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

He gave him 15 days in which to appeal the extradition ruling then sent him back to jail in a Black Maria. Ray's legal adviser said there definitely would be an appeal.

The judge granted extradition on two counts — the King murder charge by the state of Tennessee and the state of Missouri's charge the 40-year-old Ray broke jail while serving a sentence for armed robbery.

(In Washington, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said, "It is important that Ray's right to a trial be assured." He said he was pleased at the court action in London and hoped for Ray's return without undue delay.)

Ray, 40, was accused of shooting the civil rights leader in Memphis, Tenn., on April 4.

He was arrested June 8 at London airport by a Scotland Yard detective, who testified last week that when accused, Ray collapsed in his cell, crying, "God, I feel so trapped."

Ray's defense attorney, Roger Frisby, argued in Bow Street Magistrate Court that the slaying was a political crime. But Frank Milton, chief metropolitan magistrate for London, agreed with the U.S. position it was outright murder.

VERY NERVOUS

Ray, so nervous he was almost incoherent, had shown earlier in a surprise statement to the court that he feared—and perhaps expected—the extradition to be granted.

There was still much legal red tape to go through before Ray returns to the United States. His defense attorney indicated he would appeal in a maneuver that could take weeks.

Milton in his ruling said no evidence had been presented at the two-part hearing to substantiate defense claims the slaying was a political crime.

He also ruled that Missouri law covering robbery with violence was relevant in the extradition case. Missouri wants Ray for trial on charges he escaped from prison while serving a term for armed robbery.

SURPRISE STATEMENT

When Ray made his surprise statement his nervousness reached a peak. He bounced up and down, heels to toes, and spoke in a staccato southern accent that left even the court

U.S. Expresses Regret To Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Soviet Union today agreed to release the Seaboard World Airlines DC8 jet with 231 Americans aboard which was forced by MIG fighters to land on a Russian island in the Pacific Ocean Sunday night.

George Christian, White House press secretary, made the official announcement. He said the Soviet Union ordered the plane released after the United States "expressed regret" that the jetliner had violated Russian airspace.

"We've been informed by our embassy in Moscow that instructions have been issued by the Soviet government for the Seaboard Airlines DC8, which was obliged to land in the Kuriles, and its passengers to leave the Soviet Union," the White House said. The note said it would take off soon.

Seen as a major reason behind the Soviets' ready agreement to release the plane was the Kremlin's unwillingness to have the incident put a damper on the new era of good feeling that appears to be blossoming between the United States and Russia.

Christian said the United States expressed its regret in a note from the State Department.

The jet, carrying 214 GI's bound for Vietnam and a crew of 17, including a stewardess from Terra Linda, strayed off course en route from McChord Air Force Base in Tacoma, Wash., to a refueling stop in Japan.

The United States had made no bones about the plane being off course. A spokesman for the U. S. Federal Aviation Agency in Tokyo said the jetliner was "very definitely over Russian territory."

The Russians moved quickly to give up the airliner, apparently not wanting to set back improved U. S.-Russian relations after the announcement yesterday that the two nations would meet in the "nearest future" to discuss limitation and reduction of strategic offensive and defensive missiles.

After the $10 million DC8, on its maiden voyage, was forced down, the United States immediately requested its return, addressing a plea to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow as well to Russian Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in Washington.

There had been some concern that the Russians might be somewhat "sticky" on the matter —despite the inadvertent nature of the acknowledged intrusion of the plane into Soviet airspace —because the GIs were headed for Vietnam.

Job Corps Kickbacks Described

WASHINGTON (AP) Kickbacks from salaries paid enrollees in a U.S. job training program were used by a Chicago street gang to provide bail bonds and legal fees and to buy guns and marijuana, the gang's former vice president testified today.

The surprise witness told investigating senators leaders of the Devil's Disciples collected $5 a week from the average $45 weekly salaries which gang members received for attending classes in a training center supported by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Nicholas Dorenzo, 19, testified before the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, which is looking into a $927,000 program set up by OEO to provide basic education and job opportunities for Chicago youth.

Dorenzo told senators he had dropped out of the gang after being acquitted on a murder charge last March. He said he was testifying because his former colleagues beat him up, tried to kill him and kept up efforts to reinvolve him in gang activities.

His close-cropped head showed scars including a gash he said was caused by a bullet fired at him by gang members.

Dorenzo told senators he and others had tried to make the OEO program a success.

"We tried to do a good job," he said. "But the professional people in the program got to a point where they didn't care any more so we took the same attitude."

Plane Crash Kills Major From Marin

Army Maj. Kent F. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Miller of 232 Golden Hinde Passage, Corte Madera, was killed June 24 in Vietnam on his 29th birthday.

Promoted to major the day before, he was killed in the crash of an aircraft.

Major Miller was on his second tour of Vietnam duty. He had served there as a Special Forces (Green Beret) officer in 1965-66, after seeing duty in the Dominican intervention in the summer of 1965.

He was seriously wounded in June, 1966, suffering a shattered leg and fractures of his other leg and an arm. While convalescing in Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco, he was married in December, 1966, to the former Anita Lundgren, whom he had met in Sweden while he was stationed in Europe.

A native of Fargo, N.D., Major Miller was graduated from Oregon State University in 1961 and commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Army. He attended infantry, paratroop and ranger school at Fort Benning, Ga., then went to Special Forces School at Fort Bragg, N.C.

He went back to Vietnam in March of this year, serving with the Fifth Battalion, 12th Infantry, 199th Light Infantry Brigade. His wife has been working as a secretary in Sweden, and was to meet him in Bangkok next month for his rest and recovery leave.

Instead, she and her parents will fly to San Francisco this week for his funeral, arrangements for which are pending arrival of his remains from Vietnam.

Car Plunges Over Cliff, Killing Youth

A San Francisco youth was killed and another injured yesterday when their compact car plunged 150 feet down a cliff on the Green Gulch Ranch, near Muir Beach.

Both youths were thrown from the vehicle as it left a curve on Shoreline Highway and crashed through a barbed wire fence shortly after 3 p.m.

The dead youth, Anthony Aiello, 18, a passenger, was pinned under the car for more than an hour. Passing motorists, state Division of Highway workers and California Highway Patrol officers freed him.

The driver, Salvatore A. Cresci, 18, Aiello's next-door neighbor, escaped serious injury. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and scrapes.

Aiello was pronounced dead at the hospital at 3:20 p.m. His body was taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

Aiello was the 15th person to die in a traffic accident in Marin County this year. Seventeen persons had died at this time last year. It was the third fatal

Berkeley Curfew Lifted

BERKELEY (AP) — The curfew clamped for three nights on this city of 120,000 to curb street demonstrations was lifted today by the city council.

Hisses, boos and one shout of "Nazi" rose from the crowd of 500 jammed into Berkeley High School's Little Theater when Councilman John K. DeBonis cast the only dissenting vote.

DeBonis, a conservative who has lashed out many times at hippies and political activists, said lifting the curfew would "undo all the good that has been done."

More than 100 arrests have been made by 700 massed police, California Highway Patrolmen and Alameda County sheriff's deputies, windows have been smashed and fires set since the demonstrations began Friday night over demands to close Telegraph Avenue July 4 for a political rally. Damage has been estimated at $40,000.

Peter Camejo, suspended University of California student and a leader of the Young Socialist Alliance, was among the 500 in the crowd at the council session.

A sparkplug of the demonstrations, he had come prepared to demand lifting the curfew which he called "a red flag" inciting more reaction. But the council acted at the city manager's urging before the demand could be presented.

In addition to the capacity crowd in the theater, where the council meeting was held to accommodate spectators, another 200 to 300 stood outside.

Camejo, 28, whose suspension from the university was ordered last October because he took part in unauthorized rallies protesting the draft, called for today's confrontation at a meeting held last night on the U.C. Berkeley campus.

Because of the 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew, Berkeley was relatively quiet last night. But there were some incidents.

Cuba Returns Jetliner; 86 Passengers Follow

MIAMI (UPI)—Cuban officials sent a hijacked Northwest Orient Airlines jetliner back to the United States today without its 86 passengers, claiming it would be unsafe for the Boeing 727 to take off fully loaded from the Havana airport.

The passengers aboard the jet were returned six hours later aboard a DC7, flown by the U.S.-operated Cuban refugee airlift service.

The pilot of the Minneapolis-Chicago-Miami jetliner, forced to Havana at gunpoint last night in the second hijacking in three days, said the Cuban action was nonsense.

Capt. Richard Simonson said "there was no safety factor involved as far as I was concerned." FAA sources said Havana airport has a runway 10,500 feet long and the Boeing 727 would need only a third of it.

Simonson said after he brought the plane and the other six crewmembers back that Cuban officials insisted it would be "dangerous" to take off and refused to let the passengers board. The pilot said the Cubans told him they would not permit the takeoff with a loaded plane and "that's the way it was. There was no choice."

In Washington, a state department spokesman said the action was "unusual."

"We are energetically pursuing the matter through the offices of the Swiss embassy," the State Department said. Simonson said he also complained to the Swiss embassy but it didn't get his passengers on the plane.

Officials said a third flight would be added to the refugee airlift to pick up the passengers this afternoon at Veradera, 90 miles from Havana.

Simonson said the man who hijacked his plane was a Latin American.

Network Battles Hughes On Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard H. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting Co., Inc., said today the management and directors will oppose Hughes Tool Co.'s offer to buy 2 million shares of ABC common stock.

Hughes Tool of Houston, Tex.; wholly owned by financier Howard Hughes, offered yesterday to pay $74.25 a share for the ABC stock—a total of $148.5 million.

Goldenson said that "in the best interests of our stockholders" ABC counsel has been instructed to seek relief in the courts against the Hughes Tool offer as soon as possible.

LBJ Backs Outlawing Executions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, quoting George Bernard Shaw that "murder and capital punishment are not opposites that cancel one another but similars that breed their kind," urged Congress today to abolish the death penalty for federal crimes.

Clark thus put the Johnson Administration squarely behind a bill by Sen. Philip A Hart, D-Mich.

The bill specifies the death sentence may not be imposed for any offense punishable under federal law. It also provides that anyone under death sentence for a federal crime at time of enactment of the bill would have his sentence reduced to life imprisonment.

The attorney general said extensive studies have showed that the death penalty does not deter crime.

Most states still have capital punishment for some crimes, Clark noted, but said it has been rarely used in recent years. In 1935 there were 199 executions while there was only one in 1966 and two last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Harold K. Johnson retired today as Army chief of staff with words of praise and gratitude from President Johnson.

Consumer Debts Over $100 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve board says consumer debt hit a record $100.3 billion by the end of May and outstanding installment credit made its biggest jump in nearly two years.

Installment credit increased $610 million on a seasonally adjusted basis for a total $79.27 billion, the board said yesterday, and noninstallment debt rose $21 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

U.S. Base Foe Wins In Iceland

REYKJAVIK (UPI)—A museum curator who opposed American bases in his country overwhelmingly won the presidency of Iceland, final returns showed today.

Dr. Kristin Eldjarn, curator of the National Museum, defeated Dr. Gunnar Thoroddsen, Icelandic ambassador to Denmark, 67,564 to 35,438.

Eldjarn

Eldjarn, 52, campaigned against establishment of a U.S. armed forces television station in Iceland several years ago. He said young Icelanders exposed to U.S. programs would lose interest in their own culture.

Despite his opposition to U.S. bases, Eldjarn favors continued participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), which completed its summer ministerial meeting in Reykjavik last week.

First Negro

SURRY, Va. (AP) — Surry County has appointed the first Negro to its three-member school board—five years after the last white student withdrew from the public school system.

Newton M. Taliaferro, 65, a retired interior decorator, was appointed yesterday by the county trustee electoral board.

The Curry County public school system, which serves almost 1,300 students, is attended only by Negroes. All the white pupils withdrew to attend segregated private schools in 1963 when seven Negro children signed up to attend previously all-white schools.

Mexican Tremor

MEXICO (AP) — A strong earthquake rocked the Mexican capital and the resort cities of Acapulco and Cuernavaca for two minutes last night, causing widespread alarm. However, no casualties or damage have been reported.

The epicenter was reported about 115 miles below Mexico City in the mountains of Puebla state.

Luci Turns 21

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Luci Johnson Nugent marked her 21st birthday today with friends in Austin, Tex., and long distances best wishes on her White House line from Preisdent and Mrs. Johnson.

The only member of the family on hand to help Luci celebrate was her year-old son, Patrick Lyndon. Her sister Lynda Bird Robb was in Texas visiting friends but it was not certain she would be in Austin to wish Luci a happy birthday, the White House said.

Luci's husband, Airman Patrick J. Nugent, is a weapons mechanic at Cam Ranh Bay in South Vietnam

Lunch Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has approved and sent to the Senate a $300 million, three-year program to provide extra free and low-cost school lunches for needy children — a major goal of the Poor People's Campaign.

The action yesterday was coupled with passage of legislation which would require distribution of the lunches in such a manner that recipients would not be identified to their schoolmates.

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung made his second public appearance in two days by attending an opera yesterday performed in Peking under the guidance of his wife, former actress Chiang Ching, the New China News Agency reported.

Legally 'No'

LONDON (UPI) — Beatle John Lennon staged an art show at a West End gallery last night in honor of Japanese sculptress Yoko Ona.

Asked if his marriage to his wife Cynthia had broken up, Lennon said "legally the answer is no." Lawyers for Lennon and his wife met last week.

Miss Ono is married to American movie producer Anthony Cox. Lennon was asked if he loved Miss Ono and he replied, "I do love her. Of course I do."

Cigarette 'Death' Labeling?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Citing what it called evidence of new links between smoking and fatal disease, the government has asked Congress to outlaw radio and television cigarette commercials and require stronger health warnings in other advertising.

In separate recommendations yesterday, the Health, Education and Welfare Department called for a "death" warning on cigarette packages and ads, and the Federal Trade Commission went farther and urged a ban on all cigarette commercials.

PRESENT WARNING

HEW Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen said the current package warning reading "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health" should be replaced with one saying:

"Warning: Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death from cancer and other diseases."

Cohen, citing a new study by the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, said there was now evidence young men who are heavy smokers lose four years in life expectancy and light smokers lose two.

SMOKING TYPES

Heavy smoking was defined as two packs a day, light smoking less than half a pack.

In addition to the link with lung cancer—first asserted by a U.S. Surgeon General's report four years ago — smoking can contribute to death from coronary heart disease and to the development of cardiovascular disease, Cohen said.

He said some of the harmful effects appear to be reversible after the smoker quits.

The initial surgeon general's report touched off a flurry of legislative proposals that ended with enactment of the cigarette package labeling requirement in 1965.

'NO EFFECT'

The FTC said in its recommendations Monday that the current warning does not have a "significant effect" on deterring smokers.

Cohen and all five members of the FTC concurred in proposing the new health warning for packages, recommending that it also be required in all cigarette ads in print or on the air, and urging that both packages and ads be required to carry the brand's tar and nicotine content.

The absolute prohibition of cigarette commercials was recommended by the FTC alone on a 3 to 2 vote.

Chairman Paul Dixon, who voted against it, said "I am of the opinion that, if a realistically adequate warning should be required in all television and radio advertising, the public interest would be sufficiently protected."

The commission said that on an average, Americans see 66.75 cigarette commercials on television a month.

Record B52 Raids Rake Border Zone

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacked the southernmost part of North Vietnam with the heaviest saturation raids of the war yesterday and today.

Wave after wave of America's biggest bombers—75 planes in all flying from bases in Okinawa, Thailand and Guam—unleashed more than 4 million pounds of explosives on enemy targets just above South Vietnam's border.

Each B52 carried about 54,000 pounds of 500-pound and 750-pound bombs.

The main targets were North Viegnamese storage areas, caves, bunkers and artillery sites. One aim was to wipe out enemy big guns that have been steadily hammering U.S. combat bases and supply lines just below the eastern flank of the DMZ and firing at allied warships offshore. Another objective was to stem the increasing flow of war materials to enemy troops in South Vietnam.

Such heavy B52 strikes sometimes have signaled a massive American ground sweep. It is most unlikely that American troops plan a sweep into the northern half of the DMZ or above it. But the B52s could be softening up the enemy's artillery to limit their reaction to other U.S. offensives along the frontier.

Despite 3,656 missions over North Vietnam's southern panhandle by smaller fighter-bombers in June—an average of 122 a day—U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy is pouring more supplies and troops into South Vietnam than ever before.

The Stratofortresses each can carry up to 60,000 pounds of bombs, more than 10 times as much as one fighter-bomber, but they also present a better target for North Vietnamese missiles than the smaller, lower flying fighter-bombers.

To clear the way yesterday, fighter-bombers streaked in first in an effort to draw the fire of North Vietnamese missile crews, pinpoint the launching sites, then attack them.

In South Vietnam, only one significant ground action was reported yesterday as a general lull continued.

In a day of fighting three miles southeast of the nearly abandoned combat base at Khe Sanh, 157 North Vietnamese were killed, U.S. Marines reported two Marines killed and 11 wounded. A Marine company clashed with one enemy force in the area and called in air strikes and artillery. U.S. pilots also found a second enemy group nearby.

The appearance of the short tunic in the 14th century was the first manifestation of fashion.

Ford's Miller To Be Dean At Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — The new dean of Stanford's graduate school of business will be Arjay Miller, vice chairman of the board of directors of Ford Motor Co., effective July 1, 1969.

Miller, 52, was president of Ford from 1963 until this year.

He will continue as a member of Ford's board of directors after he becomes dean, an announcement said yesterday.

Miller joined Ford in 1946 after serving three years in the the Air Force.

Earlier, he had spent three years in graduate study and as a teaching assistant at University of California, Berkeley, and had served three years at the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank. He is a 1937 graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Miller said he had not wanted to leave Ford, but was glad to enter the education field because he believes one of the country's most critical needs is for greater competence in management skills.

"Up-to-date training for management, construed in its broadest sense, is vitally necessary not only in meeting traditional business goals but also in helping to resolve broad social problems," he said.

Cuba Publishes Diary Of Slain 'Che' Guevara

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says Bolivia's president and the commander of its armed forces ordered Cuban revolutionary leader Ernesto "Che" Guevara assassinated after he was captured and that two drunken soldiers did the job.

In an introduction to the Cuban version of Guevara's Bolivian war diary, Castro also claimed that Bolivia's top Communist, Mario Monje, sabotaged Guevara's guerrilla campaign by intercepting "well trained militant Communists who were going in to join the guerrillas."

Guevara's diary was seized by Bolivian army authorities after his capture in October.

Cuban officials said they got hold of photostatic copies of the diary without paying for them but did not explain how.

Castro's government began distributing its version of the diary free yesterday.

In La Paz, Bolivian President Rene Barrientos charged that the Cuban book was fictional and false.

The Cuban publication appears to hinder further efforts by the Bolivians to sell what they claim is the true version of Guevara's diary. Several prospective U.S. purchasers have declined the rights because of possible copyright complications, and Ramparts magazine announced in New York it would publish the 60,000-word Cuban version in a special issue.

The diary published in Havana gave no startling revelations of Guevara's activities after he vanished from Cuba in 1965.

In Milan, Italian publisher Giangiacomo Feltrinelli announced that he would publish the Cuban version of Guevara's dairy.

Council May Shoo San Rafael Horses

San Rafael City Council is going to give some thought to banning the keeping of horses in the city.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen noted there have been complaints about horse riding in the streets, flies and odors.

"I don't think there should be any in San Rafael and I was going to ask the council to control it so they can't have horses in San Rafael," he said.

The horse discussion arose when Edward K. Wachsman of 50 Palm Drive protested that he had been given notice that his permit to keep horses was rescinded.

Wachsman said he got a notice from Dr. Harry O. Hund, city health officer, without any prior warning of any violation.

Councilman granted Wachsman a 30-day extension of his permit, and agreed to give further study to changing the rules on horses.

"I don't think we should have any," said Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

"They shouldn't be allowed on the street," commented Councilman Fred E. Jensen.

City Atty. David A. Menary Jr. said permits can be revoked if public health, sanitation and safety is involved.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

GUN RESTRICTIONS — Received a petition from the Marin Rod and Gun Club, containing more than 100 signatures, requesting that there be no gun restrictions enacted; took no action.

CARD ROOMS—Gave first approval to an ordinance making denial of card room permits mandatory effective Sept. 1.

CONCEALED WEAPONS — Gave first approval to an ordinance prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons on person or in vehicle and the drawing of a knife or weapon in a rude, angry or threatening manner, except in self defense.

ROAD MATERIALS—Awarded contracts for various road materials, for 1967-68 to five firms — Camgros Gravel and Fuel, Basalt Rock Co., Hutchinson Company, Marin Masonry, and McPhail's, low bidders in varying categories of materials.

PUBLIC WORKS—Passed an ordinance placing the department of public works under the city manager and eliminating the right of the city planning commission to appoint, employ or contract with officers, employees or consultants. The vote was 4-1 with Councilman Fred E. Jensen dissenting.

DRAINAGE PLAN—Received without discussion a drainage plan for the recently annexed east San Rafael area along Highway 17 prepared by Carlos E. Gonzalez, and set July 15 for a hearing on the plan. Gonzalez offered two proposals and recommended one that would cost $720,000; including $393,000 in construction costs and $327,000 in land costs.

ENCROACHMENT PERMITS —Granted William Biggs an encroachment permit to construct a brick wall in street right-of-way, two feet behind curb, at 55 Convent Court, and Robert Grady an encroachment permit to construct a six-foot high cyclone fence behind sidewalk at 80 Bodie Street.

CLAIM REJECTED—Rejected a claim by George M. and Vivian M. Irvine of 7 Nightingale Lane for $55,000 to correcting settling of home and foundation. The Irvines alleged that the city was negligent in allowing the structure to be constructed without conforming to the building code.

Novotny has been refused a motion to move his trial to another county on grounds because news publicity. A motion by Arceo to dismiss the charge against him on grounds of insufficient evidence is scheduled for further arguments at 3:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Golf Course Plan Favored By Council

San Rafael City Council gave encouragement, but no commitment, last night to a proposal to create a municipal golf course on the Smith Brothers ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

Councilmen passed a resolution encouraging creation of a nonprofit corporation, which would issue bonds to finance the course and lease it back to the city.

Their action paved the way for a full study of the feasibility of developing a golf course and possibly a heliport on 150 acres of the ranch, east of Highway 101. The plan would require annexation of the area by the city.

Preliminary estimates were that development of the 18-hole golf course would cost $1,500,000.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen was the lone dissenter declaring that the council should "let the people decide whether San Rafael shall have a public golf course."

He contended that if the revenue from the golf course wasn't sufficient to meet the lease payments, the deficiency would have "to come from the taxpayers pocket."

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said last night's resolution placed the city under no obligation except for some of his time to work with representatives of the proposed corporation.

"We'll put a package together to bring back to you," Andersen said.

When it was reported that plans and specifications, cost estimates and a feasibility report could be completed in about three months, Councilman Louis H. Baar said, "I think it worth looking into."

Appearing before the council were Dan Coleman, San Rafael civil engineer who will prepare development plans, Jack K. Dooley of Dooley, Kelly and Moiseeff of San Francisco, attorney for the proposed nonprofit corporation; Charles A. McPhee of Schwabacher-Rafferty and Co., Inc. of San Francisco, municipal financing consultants, and William Sherman of Sherman and Associates, specialists in golf course planning, marketing and management, who will undertake a feasibility study.

Councilmen were told there would be no fee for these services if the city rejected the proposal.

Andersen said the nonprofit corporation would have a board of directors consisting of "public spirited citizens."

McPhee described the proposed corporation "as a financial vehicle" to assist the city in financing of the golf course.

The city would have complete control of the golf course and at the end of the leasing period would "own it outright," McPhee said.

The proposed site is not within the city limits, but lies close to the city and would be a logical area for annexation.

Antiwar Ballot Try In San Mateo County

SAN MATEO (AP) — A San Mateo County Citizens Committee is seeking 20,000 signatures on petitions to place an antiwar policy statement on the November ballot.

Mrs. Norman S. Bernie, co-chairman, said the petition may be withdrawn if Paris peace talks show progress.

The nation's first law school was housed at Litchfield, Conn.

Council Heeds Neighbors, Vetos West End Rezoning

To the relief of a large contingent of Center Street residents, San Rafael City Council last night rejected a rezoning of the West End Nursery property at 1938 Fifth Avenue.

After a one-hour hearing, councilmen rejected an application by Karl F. Unterman to rezone from single family and duplex zoning to planned unit development for duplexes.

The vote was 4-1 with Councilman John A. Miskimen dissenting.

Center Street resident contended that the rezoning would permit duplexes to infringe into the rear of the single-family district along Center Street, and change the environment of their street.

Councilmen Fred E. Jensen said the Center Street area was an established neighborhood of "firs residential" homes and he didn't feel the proposed planned unit development was appropriate there.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he didn't think it was proper to include single family residential area in the proposed planned unit development.

About 50 persons appeared at the session, most in opposition to the zoning change, and there was a petition with 136 signatures submitted in opposition along with about 20 letters.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner, noted that the plan would have allowed eight additional duplex buildings on the site and would have taken about 15,000 square feet now zoned for single family dwellings.

Residents contended it would create small lots on Center Street and be a detriment to the neighborhood. The area proposed for rezoning lies between Fifth Avenue and Center Streets.

Several residents spoke in favor of the proposed rezoning and there were about half a dozen favoring letters. The city planning commission had recomended rezoning.

Hub Planners Ask Larger Lot Size Rule

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night proposed changes in the city zoning ordinance which would increase lot size requirements for residential areas and also require large minimum square-footage for apartments.

Public hearings on the proposed changes will be held both by the planning commission and city council before adoption, according to commissioners.

The planning commission recommended that the minimum lot size in residential zones be changed from 5,000 square feet to 7,500. Setback changes were also proposed, with a 20-foot minimum for front and rear yards and eight feet for side yards.

Current setback requirements are 15 feet for front and rear and five feet for side yards.

It was proposed that the minimum size for apartments be raised from 1,250 square feet to 1,500 square feet per unit.

Discussion of use permit changes was postponed by the commission.

reporter unable to understand some of his words.

It was a sharp contrast to the relatively composed man who sat through a similar session last week when British barrister David Calcutt, representing the United States, described him as the "single-hand" killer who left his fingerprints on the murder weapon.

RAY OBJECTS

"I don't want to repeat myself," Ray said. "I would like to take the opportunity to object to Mr. Butler's testimony, especially in view of the fact that this case will probably be given wide publicity in the United States, especially in the so-called liberal press."

He then said that Birmingham attorney Arthur J. Hanes had been denied permission to see him on a recent visit. He said he had written to British Home Secretary James Callghan asking for permission for Hanes to visit him in jail but was turned down.

"I think that in view of the seriousness of this case, I should have had a little more freedom to write and visit people in the circumstances," Ray said. "That is all I have to say and I would like to thank the court."

In Birmingham today Hanes said Ray's surprise statement he was denied permission to see him was "absolutely right." He told UPI on June 24 on his return the British Home Office had not denied him permission to see Ray; today he denied he said that.

In Memphis law enforcement officials officers refused to comment on the ruling that Ray will be extradited for the King slaying.

Miss Theller's passenger, Janice L. Halverson, 16, of 129 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital with a mild concussion and was to be sent home today. Another passenger, Geneve Bailey, 15, of 813 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, told officers she would see her own doctor.

Navy Model F111 Funds Wiped Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Navy version of the controversial F111 fighter-bomber was all but killed today when the House Armed Services Committee went along with Senate action eliminating funds for the plane originally known as the TFX.

The House is virtually certain to endorse the committee move when the issue reaches the floor.

Action on the F111B (the Air Force version of the F111A came as the committee approved and amended a $21 billion Senate-passed bill that would authorize procurement of military hardware and finance research and development by the armed forces in the next 12 months.

Although the House committee refused to go along with some other cuts made by the Senate, it accepted without change the action on the F111B —elimination of $460 million requested by the Administration for further development of the plane and purchase of 30 of the craft for the Navy.

In place of the F111B, the Senate voted $170 million for development of an experimental aircraft known as the VFX1, described as lighter and more maneuverable than the F111.

The board authorized an application for a loan of up to $60,000 from the county treasury to tide the district over until tax revenue is received in December.

Eight persons, all but one of them teen-agers, were arrested. The disturbance was sparked in an incident at a high school playfield.

Marinwood Pool Change Asked

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission last night recommended that the community services district correct a drainage problem on the swimming pool deck at the community center.

Water accumulates at a low point of the deck and is a hazard, reported Recreation Director William A. Gordon.

The cost of installing a new drain should be nominal, he said.

Commissioners also asked district directors to allocate $75 from the swimming team's accumulated revenue for trophies to be given at the end of the season.

Fourteen seats are left on a chartered bus leaving at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow for a Giants' baseball game in San Francisco, Gordon reported.

DONALD A. HALL

SAN DIEGO (AP)— The man who supervised construction of "The Spirit of St. Louis," the plane Charles A. Lindbergh used to span the Atlantic in 1927, is dead at 69.

Although Donald A. Hall died of a heart attack May 2, his widow, Elizabeth, said he wanted no publicity and she told only a few individuals. The death did not come to public attention until yesterday.

Hall's famous plane was a version of the Ryan Airlines Inc. M1 mail plane, modified in 60 days to meet Lindbergh's specifications. About 30 Ryan employees worked on the plane after Lindbergh placed the urgent order.

At the time, Hall was Ryan's only engineer.

"I also had to do drafting and inspecting," he once said of the hectic effort to ready the "Spirit" for flight. "Things were pretty informal in those days."

"I remember one time using a laundry cardboard to draw the design of the wing," he said. "That couldn't be done today with all the paperwork involved in modern aircraft production."

Survivors include the widow and son, Donald Jr.

Peninsula's Bounds Issue Marks Time

A squabble between Belvedere and Tiburon over straightening the boundary between the two cities will probably not be settled until after the Local Agency Formation Commission acts on Belvedere's petition on July 11.

The Belvedere council was told last night by Tiburon Vice mayor Branwell D. Fanning that he had been "perturbed" by statements made by Belvedere Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel that residents of seven houses Belvedere wants to transfer within its boundary want to get out of the "terrible City of Tiburon."

Fanning said he was also disturbed that Belvedere wants to swap the seven homes on San Rafael Avenue and Lagoon Road, but was unwilling to discuss a transfer to Tiburon of a triangular piece of land at Mar West Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

"We have been talking about it for six months," Fanning protested. But Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price told him it was "a misunderstanding." Price said Belvedere was not ready to discuss the transfer of the latter site, owned by Frederick G. Zelinsky of Belvedere, and wanted time to consider it further.

Fanning asked Price if Belvedere would protest Tiburon's petition, filed with the LAFC for the transfer. Price told him, "Yes, if that is the action required."

Price asked Fanning if Tiburon would also protest the Belvedere petition to gain the seven homes. Fanning said, "I will have to sell that to my council."

Both men said their councils wanted to talk about straightening out the irregular boundary line between the two cities, including the Boardwalk, Tiburon Boulevard property and Corinthian Island.

But Price suggested that further discussion be postponed until the LAFC acts on the Belvedere petition at next week's hearing and the Tiburon petition, not yet scheduled for a hearing.

Belvedere Hikes Pay, Cuts Capital Outlay

Belvedere City Council last night approved the salaries section of its $429,290, 1968-69 budget and chopped $3,500 from the capital outlay section.

A total of $106,329 for salaries for city employees was approved, up 7.5 per cent from last year, excluding the salary of City Mgr. William L. Cavalli, who earns $13,860.

Councilmen said Cavalli's salary would be discussed separately. His wages may be taken up a 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, when the council has set an adjourned meeting.

In a discussion of capital outlay projects for next year, the council trimmed $500 from office furniture, cut undergrounding utilities funds from $10,000 to $6,500 and added $500 to the parks and recreation budget for partial payment on a proposed master plan for parks. The total for capital outlay was reduced from $133,000 to $129,500.

Further discussions of the budget were not scheduled last night.

There was no discussion of the tax rate. Cavalli said last week that the present tax rate of $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation will probably not be raised this year, due to an anticipated raise in assessed valuation.

Councilmen voted to authorize City Engineer Kenneth A Frost and City Atty. Robert Mackay to take final steps to establish a special assessment district for fire mains on Cliff Crest and Eucalyptus roads.

Mayor Thomas S. Prise announced that most residents protesting formation of the district had withdrawn their objections, since the cost of construction was cut from $63,000 to $55,408.

A further hearing on the district was adjourned to 8 p.m. July 15 at the community center.

According to Cavalli, this will be the first special assessment district in the history of Belvedere.

The Belvedere City Council Also:

McLellan Co. of San Rafael, for resurfacing of Beach Road and San Rafael Avenue. Six bids ranged from a high of $34,655 from Ghilotti Bros. Inc.

AUDIT — Accepted Cavalli's recommendation to hire the San Rafael firm of Sleezer and Eckhoff to audit the city's books for $600.

OPPOSED AMENDMENT — Unanimously agreed to oppose Assembly Bill 202, which would amend the Ralph M. Brown Act to include advisory committees among governing bodies required to hold open meetings and announce them.

TRAFFIC — Adopted an ordinance to update old ordinances regulating traffic in the city.

Cardinal Brennan Dead At 74

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Francis Cardinal Brennan, who rose from a coal town in Pennsylvania to the highest post ever held by an American in the Vatican, died here today. He was 74.

Cardinal Brennan, died at Misericordia Hospital where he was admitted June 18 for tests. The cardinal decided to return to the United States for treatment of an undisclosed illness after he had been ill for about a month in Rome.

Cardinal Brennan was head of the Roman Curia's Congregation of the Sacraments, the highest Vatican post ever given to an American. He was named to it last Jan. 15 by Pope Paul.

The son of a physician in the hard coal fields of Northeastern Pennsylvania he was born in May of 1894 at Shenandoah.

Brennan has been at the Vatican since 1940 when Pope Pius XII appointed him an auditor, or judge, of the Sacred Roman Rota. As dean of the Rota he was considered a member of the Pope's official family, with the right to assist him in the more solemn ceremonies at St. Peter's.

Aside from his position as dean of the Rota, he held other important positions in Rome, among them as a member of the committee for the Proper Interpretation of Canon Law and as a consultant to the Central Commission of the Ecumenical Council.

After his ordination in 1920, he studied for four years at the Pontificate Seminary before returning to this country.

He was appointed Officials of the Philadelphia Archdiocese Court and in 1940 he was named a monsignor and elevated to the position of judge of the Rota by Pope Pius XII.

Fire Atop New Building Halted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A torchlike fire visible for miles burned out of control for over an hour early today atop the uncompleted 52-story Bank of America building, the tallest skyscraper outside New York and Chicago.

Half a dozen acetylene and oxygen tanks and other combustible material being used to complete construction of the building were destroyed in the blaze. A fire department spokesman said further estimate of damage was available.

The last steel beam of the building was hoisted into place June 3 at a "topping out" ceremony attended by several hundred persons.

Israeli Troops Kill Eight Arabs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli troops fought a two-hour running battle with eight Arab saboteurs early today and said two raiders were killed and seven Israelis were wounded.

The battle took place between the settlements of Hamadiya and Ma'Oz Hayyim, in the Beisan Valley south of the Sea of Galilee, a spokesman said.

British Airline To Resume Flights

LONDON (AP) — The British Overseas Airways Corp. plans to start flying again at dawn tomorrow following the end of a two-week strike by its 1,040 pilots.

Officials said priority would be given to flights to New York, Canada and West Africa. They said it probably would take a week for operations to return to normal.

Because of 55,000 lakes, one tenth of Finland lies under water, says the National Geographic.

Corte Madera Partly Mollified On Marsh

A San Anselmo developer, who is trying to come up with a development plan for a 97-acre marshland parcel in East Corte Madera that will satisfy both the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the Town of Corte Madera, won a small victory last night.

The latest preliminary plan of developer Frank M. Burke was given grudging "approval in concept" by the town council, which agreed not to oppose his plan before the BCDC.

Burke appeared before the BCDC June 21 with the third plan he has submitted for the area. After opposition was voiced by Corte Madera, he was told to work out an agreement with the town and return to the July 11 BCDC meeting.

Although councilmen indicated they do not like the feature of the plan which calls for preserving 40 acres of marsh by deeding it to the Marin Conservation League, they said they felt they had no real choice.

"I refuse to describe that mud as marshland," Councilman Robert P. Simmons said. Other councilmen said they had never seen a bird in the area, indicating doubt that the marsh is needed for wildlife feeding.

The councilmen agreed, however, that the BCDC would probably not allow filling of any of the land if the wildlife preserve is not included in the plan.

Burke's latest plan is a modification of the one he presented to the BCDC on June 21. Since that time he has hired landscape architects Theodore Osmundson and Associates to draw a more artistic concept of his plan to fill 57 acres for light industry and a marina, leaving 40 in marshland.

The grid layout of the industrial sites had been changed to a radius pattern, which the councilmen liked.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst warned Burke, however, that council was not granting approval of the plan at this stage. "No fill and grading permits will be issued by the town until an acceptable master plan made by competent planners is presented," Colthurst said.

Colthurst also instructed Burke to work with Dan Coleman and Associates, which is preparing a plan for the Muzzi property, a 200-acre parcel south of Burke's property.

Councilman Byron W. White voted against the motion to approve Burke's concept, saying that he did not like being blackmailed by the BCDC into something the town does not want.

Councilmen also decided to turn the BCDC preliminary master plan for the Bay Area over to the Corte Madera Planning Commission before discussing it at the July 15 council meeting. The council plans to send representatives to the July 19 meeting of the BCDC to voice Corte Madera's response to the plan.

In other actions last night, the council adopted a uniform plumbing code over objections of local plumbers. They did not like the code's provision allowing plastic pipe for drainage, waste and vent systems.

The council also voted to approve plans and specifications for filling and grading the street that will connect Paradise and Tamalpais drives. Estimated cost of the first step of the project, to be done this summer, is $33,500.

Mayor Colthurst said he was unhappy that paving of the street will have to wait until next spring, but engineers said that the fill will have to settle for several months.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

TREASURER — Swore in Frank Bigley as town treasurer.

DREDGE — Decided to shelve a project which would have formed an assessment district to dredge San Clemente Creek because property owners objected to the high cost.

ANNEXATION — Instructed Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher to proceed with a request to the Local Agency Formation Commission that the Lucky Drive area be annexed to the town if it is annexed to the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

MOTEL TAX — Raised the hotel and motel tax from 4 to 5 per cent of room rates.

GUN CONTROL — Agreed to wait until the state has taken action on pending legislation before investigating gun control laws.

Driver Fined $250

Atelleo Louis Pesino, 42, San Francisco, was given a suspended $250 fine and placed on six months' probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. California Highway Patrol arrested him April 7 on Highway 101.

Teachers Tell Possible Role In Drug War

A youth who uses drugs probably does so because he views the world as populated largely by hypocrites who are difficult to communicate with meaningfully, the Marin County Board of Education was told last night.

The analysis was made by eight educators from Marin County school districts who told the board teachers should open the channels of communication.

They were among 30 educators from Marin, including teachers, counselors, administrators and others, who last month attended "Project Inundation," a five-day conference on drug abuse sponsored by the county superintendent of schools, part of which was held at Mendocino State Hospital.

One of the eight, Anthony G. Bacich, Kentfield School District superintendent, said last night's report represents the thinking of about 15 of the 30. A final report by all 30 is still to be drawn up and distributed to all county school districts.

Bacich said drug-using youths suffer "rejection and alienation" at the hands of adults and see that adults do not live by standards they purport to believe in.

The teacher can change the youth's view of life, he said, by becoming "more sensitive, more human" in order to open up lines of communication.

"Kids are turning on to drugs because they can't turn on to people," said Keith E. Lester, psychology teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School.

"School has become a dehumanizing kind of place," he said, "we need to make school a place where people can turn on to people."

A written proposal submitted by the group described a drug abuse class:

"It should be organized around small group work and ideally limited to 10 to 15 students . . . All efforts will be made to create an open, nonthreatening environment in which the student may examine his own life experiences."

The course would examine why people use drugs, how dangerous they are and laws concerning their use. "The intent should be to examine the decision-making process in drug abuse in such a way that the individual can become aware of the factors that influence any kind of decision making."

The report also recommends more elective and fewer required courses, "allowing the student to find greater meaning in those he attends" and a "school-sanctioned community house . . . staffed by caring people who will create an environment in which ongoing personal growth and exploration can take place."

Although board members generally praised the report, one, James A. Carroll, described it as nebulous and "in need of more definition." The board took no action.

Eichler's Son Seeks A Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Edward P. Eichler, 37, son of builder Joseph Eichler, filed suit for divorce yesterday, charging his wife, Doris, with extreme cruelty.

They were married in 1954 and separated last June 15. They have two children, David, 11, and Steven, 8.

Eichler, also a builder, asked for court approval of an undisclosed property settlement and said custody should be given "to the party who will best serve the interests of said minor children."

County Shelves Proposed Data Processing Training

A proposal for data processing courses in Marin County high schools has been dropped in the aftermath of a cool reception from county supervisors, the Marin County Board of Education was told last night.

Stanley H. Friese, assistant superintendent, said he and administrators from four high school districts had decided to drop the proposal although supervisors at their June 19 meeting postponed a decision on the matter.

The decision was made, Friese said, "rather than keep teachers waiting."

He said another attempt to get such a program started would be made, but "it will be difficult to work with the districts on a countywide basis after what has happened."

The proposal had called for 30 Tamalpais High School District junior and senior students to study data processing this summer at the Terra Linda Data Processing Center, with the program eventually expanding to affect all high school districts. A half-cent per $100 assessed valuation countywide tax would have been levied.

Also last night, Glen E. Robinson of Mill Valley, now in his third year on the board, was elected board president, succeeding Edith Kanoff of Novato who had been chairman for the past year.

Arnold T. Dolcini, Jr., succeeded Robinson as vice president of the board.

SAN QUENTIN — Set graduation from Bayview School at San Quentin for July 11 and approved a $261,000 contract for 1968-69 with the state Department of Corrections under which county schools will continue instruction at the prison. VOLUNTEER TEACHERS — Adopted a resolution applying for federal funds for training for volunteer teachers at the College of Marin and Dominican College.

FUNDS — Certified the amounts needed out of county funds to finance four programs: $50,907 for the educable mentally retarded program, $249,283 for the trainable mentally retarded program, $290,426 for the physically handicapped program and $39,519 for the development center for handicapped minors. State funds will help finance the programs.

Dumke Holds Budget Hurts Enrollment

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of California's state colleges says one of Gov. Ronald Reagan's 1968-69 budget cuts may make it harder to avoid limiting enrollment in the 19-campus system.

Dumke referred to Reagan's cutting the Legislature's 10 per cent college faculty pay raises to 7.5 per cent.

FACULTY HIT

With about 700 faculty positions still vacant, Dumke said, there may not be enough teachers to staff classes this fall. "we'll try very hard to avoid" limiting enrollment, Dumke said in Los Angeles in a telephone interview.

Reagan said his $3.4 million reduction in college pay raises reduced the allocation to the level he proposed in his original budget.

University of California officials at Berkeley said U.C. President Charles J. Hitch was in the East and there would be no immediate report from him on the new state budget.

But in Sacramento, the Assembly's Democratic Caucus leader, Winfield Shoemaker, said Reagan's college and university budget cuts "are the latest in a series of moves in the governor's plan to steadily dismantle the higher education system."

The higher education cuts comprised most of the $16.2 million Reagan trimmed from the Legislature's $5.7 billion budget.

Humphrey Asks National Urban Bank For 'Saving Nation's Cities'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey proposed a multibillion-dollar loan program today to "save" the nation's cities and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's top aides tackled differences over the direction his campaign should take.

McCarthy aides were reported divided over whether the Minnesota senator should concentrate on personal contacts with delegates in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination or combine the contacts with mass actions such as state convention walkouts to demonstrate his "new politics" strength.

The Washington Post said McCarthy had asked his advisers to combine their various strategies at a meeting in Washington today into a general plan for the campaign's future.

Humphrey, in what was billed a major speech on city problems, proposed in Cleveland creation of a National Urban Development Bank to help finance redevelopment projects particularly in inner cities.

"This is essentially a program for federal underwriting of loans," Humphrey said. The bank would sell federally guaranteed bonds to private investors.

"This is even more essentially," he said, "a proposal to commit ourselves as a country, to paying whatever is the cost not of just saving, but of perfecting, our cities."

On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon has accumulated nearly three-fourths of the delegates needed for the GOP presidential nomination and his opponent, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, has called for fast enactment of strict gun control legislation.

Nixon now has 478 of the 667 votes needed for nomination, according to the Associated Press tabulation of delegates pledged, committed or publicly stating their voting intentions. Rockefeller has 192.

The count does not include the minimum 40 Texas delegates that Sen. John G. Tower said yesterday would go to Nixon as a result of the senator's dropping his favorite son role and releasing the state's 56 GOP delegates.

Humphrey has 640¼ Democratic delegates votes in the AP tabulation to 401¼ for McCarthy. The Democratic nomination requires 1,312 votes.

Rockefeller said in Helena, Mont., yesterday, Congress should enact President Johnson's proposal for gun registration and licensing before it adjourns this year.

"The lives of innocent people are at stake," he said. "Strong, workable gun-control legislation is urgently needed in the battle to control crime and lessen violence."

The Harris Survey, meanwhile, reported Rockefeller is gaining Democratic and Independent support but losing Republican support to Nixon.

But another political development, New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, chairman of the Democratic National Convention's credentials committee, called a bid by Negroes for a guaranteed minimum of North Carolina's delegates "inappropriate."

Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a Negro civil rights leader, said an organization he heads will demand a minimum of 14 of the state's 59 delegates.

Mother Punished For Helping Son

TORRANCE (AP)—A 68-year-old North Hollywood woman has been placed on three years probation for harboring her son.

Betty Lee O'Brien was sentenced yesterday after she was found guilty of hiding Jerry Lee O'Brien, 34, who was sentenced to the gas chamber last May for the murder of Torrance policeman David N. Seibert during a robbery attempt.

She had been accused of hiding him last year after he escaped from a state conservation camp. While at large he shot the officer. He had been serving an eight-month sentence for possession of narcotics when he escaped.

Mrs. O'Brien was acquitted of another charge of helping her son escape.

THE REAGANS OPEN GATES TO CAL-EXPO

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan led the way for what officials of the California Exposition hope will be 1.5 million persons before Sept. 10.

The governor and his wife, Nancy, were the first official paying customers to go through the gates of the new Cal-Expo yesterday at its 630-acre site on the north banks of the American River.

Only 76 acres of the site have been developed so far, but the rest is in the design or construction stage. Eventually Cal-Expo officials hope to draw more than four million tourists a year through the miniature world's fair.

Property Tax Amendment Foes Unite

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Educators and taxpayers association officials have established a citizens committee to battle a proposed state Constitution amendment that would place a ceiling on property taxes.

Leaders of the new committee said yesterday the suggested Watson Amendment would create "chaos" in school and government financing and probably lead to drastic increases in state income and sales taxes.

The announcement came from Jack Rees, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, and Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of the California Taxpayers Association.

Rees said the major beneficiaries of the initiative appeared to be land speculators and apartment landlords. He said his group opposed the measure because "it would mean the loss of local fiscal authority insofar as education and welfare programs are concerned."

The proposed amendment is named for its author, Los Angeles Assessor Philip Watson. It qualified last week for the November ballot.

Work Under Way At Old Trestle

Work was started yesterday by Ghilotti Bros. Inc. to demolish the old railroad trestle at Trestle Glen in Tiburon.

According to Mario M. Ghilotti, general manager, taking down the trestle and filling two nearby tunnels will take almost a month.

He said today he hoped parents would keep children away from the site for their own protection, especially at night when workmen are off duty.

Reagan's $35 Million Cut In Income Taxes Snagged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The outlook for Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax cut program was dim today, but his $16.18 million in budget vetoes appeared safe from Democratic attempts to override them.

Reagan's bill to trim state income taxes by $35 million, giving most of the break to middle-bracket families with children, was stalled in an Assembly committee. His $155 million property tax reduction measure faced rough going in an unfriendly Senate committee.

Meanwhile, Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh of Inglewood promised an attempt "as fast as possible" to override some of Reagan's vetoes.

But in the Senate, Finance Committee Chairman George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, saw little opportunity for overturning Reagan's budget cuts.

Miller, Senate floor manager of the budget bill, sized up the situation in his house — split 20-20 between Republicans and Democrats — and commented: "You don't have the chance of a snowball in hell."

It takes a two-thirds vote to cancel a gubernatorial veto — 27 votes in the Senate and 54 in the 80-member Assembly, where Democrats hold a 42-38 partisan edge.

Most of the 1968 cuts came in the field of higher education. Reagan signed the budget Saturday and the $5.69 billion spending document went into effect with the start of the new fiscal year yesterday.

Practical Study Needed Along With Academic

State colleges began primarily as teachers' colleges to give practical training to those who hoped to go directly into jobs after graduation.

As state colleges expand into full four-year colleges offering liberal arts programs, they tend sometimes to go to the other extreme of eliminating the practical, vocation or profession-oriented courses as too mundane and concentrate instead on the theoretical and academic courses.

As an example, take journalism programs in some of our state colleges. Students who aspire to become newspapermen must take only non-vocational liberal arts courses during their undergraduate years to win their bachelor's degees, then attend an additional year or two for a journalism major in graduate school.

Every college aspires for the prestige that comes from offering post-graduate programs leading to master's degrees and doctorates. An institution may gain some of that prestige from offering five or six-year programs in their "schools of mass communication" instead of turning out working newspaper men in four-year "journalism schools."

But too much preoccupation with research and theory at the expense of applied knowledge of journalism's basic components may discourage those who are more interested in performing in the profession than in earning higher degrees.

Just as the original aim of the state colleges was to train prospective teachers directly toward a job, we would hope that as they expand into other fields, they will provide a proper balance between imparting theoretical knowledge and providing day-to-day working knowledge of the vocations and professions.

One of the greatest needs today is on-the-job training and job opportunity programs as evidenced by the millions being spent in an effort to put idle youth into productive work.

Serious consideration should be given by both university regents and trustees of state colleges to providing a balanced fare in their curricula so that practical courses on how to earn a living are not shunted aside as undeserving of too much attention.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

ACCIDENT TOLL INVOLVES 50 MILLION

About 50 million persons were injured in accidents last year in the United States. The cost to the nation was approximately $20 billion, including lost wages.

The National Safety Council revealed that home, job and traffic accidents disabled 11 million persons. This figure roughly equals the combined population of New York City and Chicago.

A total of 113,000 persons were reported killed in accidents, with 53,000 traffic fatalities.

The dictionary defines the word "accident" as "an event that takes place without one's foresight or expectation, especially one of an afflictive or unfortunate character."

Each of us can take practical steps to anticipate harm resulting from a wide range of mishaps. Tragedy for the individual, community and mankind can often be prevented by reasonable precaution.

Pray for the grace and strength to avert accidents rather than be the victim of them.

"None of us lives to himself, and none of us dies to himself."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

No Free Passes At State Fair, Even Reagan Must Pay $1.50

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A major deviation from a hundred year tradition took place when California's new state fair and exposition opened at the new grounds north of Sacramento, off the Elvas freeway.

For more than a century, the fair has been a fall show, catering to the public with the same methods year after year. It was about 10 years ago that moves were started to change the fair from the old grounds on Stockton Boulevard to a new site, the prime reason being that the fair had outgrown its facilities.

And in addition, the state grew up during that century, and changing times demanded bigger and better facilities.

It was touch and go with the Legislature, but finally some $34 million was made available to build a fair complex worthy of the largest state in the union in point of population, and a state with the largest agricultural economy in the nation.

TODAY THE complex is a reality, perhaps not all completed, and not ready yet for what is envisioned eventually, but ready enough to open its gates and provide a show which officials say will be well worth the admission price of $1.50.

And that's something else new. In the past, free passes to the fair were about as common as cigarette coupons. Now they're going to be scarcer than the proverbial hen's teeth, for in fact, there aren't going to be any free passes. From Gov. Ronald Reagan on down, the public will pay the tariff, or stay away. All of which is part of the long-needed plan to make the exhibition pay for itself, and eventually relieve the taxpayers of the state from contributing to the support of an exhibition that's fundamentally a self-supporting operation.

THE TRANSITION from the old to the new will be more or less gradual, and the first step in this transition, the moving to a new site, obviously finds the fair not in the final stages of what it is planned to be.

"In effect," says Harrison Culter, manager, "we're having all of the old fair, but with added attractions, in larger quarters.

"The results of this transition, the speed with which it was accomplished and what we have to offer, has surprised even ourselves. It's going to be a good show, well worth the money, and provides the means for the public to grow with the new fair and exposition."

FOR THE FIRST week, the fair will remain open all week, and beginning July 8, it will be open Wednesday through Sundays. Racing will be held as usual during the first week in September.

New access roads to the grounds from the freeway have been completed. And for the first time in many years, there will be plenty of parking space.

The fair officials aren't worried too much about the gate at the moment. The progress of the past couple of years has aroused public curiosity, and as a result, a major attendance is expected to see what the new fair is like, and what it has to offer.

Gene McCarthy Is Honest Politician

They're crawling out of the woodwork and we had better keep an eye on them.

The Simpleton in Sacramento wants more war in Vietnam, calls the Poor People's marchers a bunch of bums preaching insurrection and is "hurt" when they call him a pig.

His raffish Superintendent of Public Instruction hates students, wants war, advocates shooting looters because a TV-set is worth more than a human life any day of the week, and may yet be the "I-hold-in-my-hand" of 1969.

The clownish Mayor of Lotusland comments publicly on the "evidence" in the most recent assassination and bulls his way, uninvited, into the funeral of the victim.

Hubert the Humpty is cynically prepared to offer the surviving brother a second place on his ticket, confronts each issue with an Open Mouth while facing both ways at the same time.

The professional politicos say Gene McCarthy has no chance. Why not? Because he is not "glamorous," he doesn't offer Simpleton Solutions, he doesn't kiss babies or make back-door deals, and he doesn't nauseate us with Humpty "joy" and public tears.

In short, he's the nearest thing to an honest politician to come down the pike in decades. He shared our revulsion for the Vietnam war, white racism and middle-class indifference and single-handed spiked the guns of that Great Cowboy, Lyndon the Last.

Together with the latest victim he polled well over 80 per cent of the Democratic votes in five state primaries, whose delegates, the professionals now tell us, are likely to go to Humpty. If they do, most of the Democratic voters in the land will be disenfranchised.

What will they do then? Put Humpty together again or go into the underground under Tricky Dicky?

I-J Accused Of Joining Hysteria

I see by your editorials and bouquets to the county supervisors that you too have jumped on the bandwagon of hysteria concerning gun control registrations.

. . . This is not only another infringement on our rights but also another source of revenue for the county . . . What about the two baby sitters who were stabbed and raped in San Francisco. Are we now going to have to register all our knives . . . ?

If there are too many loopholes in our laws, then they should be rewritten. Penalties for the misuse of firearms should be stiffer . . . The educational program on the use and misuse of firearms should be strengthened. Then there would be no need for more infringements on the law abiding citizens' rights.

Meter Feeding Gives Chronic Headache

The parking situation in San Rafael is a cause of fright, worry, annoyance, vexation, and may eventually lead to violence.

The miniature boxes, driven by the meter maids — poking their marking sticks toward the tires of our stationary vehicles — is an unpleasant sight indeed. . . .

Room 205, the Municipal Courthouse, is becoming sort of a second home, and parking ticket payment receipts are becoming quite in fashion to make wallpaper and collages . . .

The parking problem is a cause for a chronic "Excedrin headache." Since I have been a student at Hansell's Secretarial School on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael, I have had to become a compulsive clock watcher. The teachers gauge timed writings so that people may leave to put money in their parking meters. At the same time we check our tires. If the meter maid is in top form (as she always is) it becomes necessary to look for new parking places. This is no easy chore, especially two or three times a day.

Each town or city has its sentimental associations. When I think of San Francisco, I see the Golden Gate and a misty fog. When I think of San Rafael, the first thing that comes to my mind is the meter maid and the Municipal Courthouse . . . . Room 205 (ho-hum).

Gun Law Involves Self-Incrimination

It was not surprising to read that our police chiefs and D.A. consider the gun registration ordinance something less than sensational.

For a moment, project your thinking into the future — to that first instance involving the arrest, conviction, and six months imprisonment of a citizen, who, in violation of our gun ordinance, possessed an unregistered gun, perhaps suspected of being stolen or otherwise instrumental in a crime.

Project again to his ultimate appeal to higher court.

Alas, we discover that our gun ordinance, by its vengeful inclusion of penalty, has coerced and threatened our citizen to volunteer evidence against himself. Familiar? It should be. It's the Fifth Amendment.

Seekers Of Gun Law 'Are Ill-Informed'

As to the effectiveness of any gun law, other than mail order sales, I say that the segment of the American people who cry out in indignation against guns are ill-informed . . .

I believe the problem is not the control of guns, rather the control of society by the members themselves. . . .

The solution would lie more nearly in further education. Required reading matter should be, "The Ugly American!" . . .

If anyone after having read the above-mentioned book can uphold the idea the firemen can toss away their safety campaigns and use strictly the hose, or policemen can continue to do an effective job on $725 a month, I will personally give my copy of the now required reading, "The Catcher In The Rye!"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Supreme Court Will Continue To Serve Responsible Conservatism

WASHINGTON — Where is the Supreme Court headed?

The best answer is that the "Warren Court" will continue.

The elevation of Justice Abe Fortas to the Chief Justiceship means that the leadership of the Court will remain in the Warren tradition.

The Chief Justice possesses no special authority, certainly no dictatorial powers. When it comes down to decisions he has just one vote — no more.

But Mr. Fortas has a great legal mind, a mastery of the law, and is a strong persuader. During the short period he has been on the Court, his influence has quickly exceeded his seniority.

Earl Warren's notable influence on the Court stemmed from his character and his sense of what he believed right, not from great legal scholarship. The first pioneer act of the Supreme Court under Warren was the decision which found segregation of the public schools unconstitutional. Warren did not bring this decision about, but it was the force of his leadership that enabled the Court to render a unanimous decision — 9 to 0.

WHEN WARREN, now retiring, was first appointed Chief Justice by President Eisenhower, his colleagues on the bench were dubious, skeptical, unimpressed. By some he was looked upon as a bush-leaguer, a provincial politician, and out of his class.

He wasn't a great jurist. He was a politician. He was not out of his class and he has performed in the tradition of a John Marshall, enabling the Court to exert a tremendous impact upon society.

I think it accurate to say that during the past 14 years the Supreme Court has done more to change the face of the nation than either the Congress or the Presidency. And I hasten to add that in my judgment its major decisions have served the cause of responsible conservatism.

It is no violation of conservative principles to have the Supreme Court rule that discrimination in the use of public, tax-supported facilities is unconstitutional.

It is no violation of conservative principles to have the Supreme Court rule that whatever civil rights under the law belong to one citizen belong to another, black and white alike.

It is no violation of conservative principles to have the Supreme Court rule that state and Congressional redistricting must come close to guaranteeing one-man, one-vote.

TAKE THIS redistricting decision. It is preeminently an instrument of responsible conservatism. For years most of the state legislatures have been so districted that a minority of voters, mostly rural, had a veto power over them. Because the legislatures were unresponsive to public needs, governors and mayors took their needs to Washington, pleaded with the federal government to meet their needs.

I submit that, if the nation is to have any fair chance of reversing the flow of power to Washington, making big government constantly bigger, it can only come about when by one-man, one-vote redistricting, state government is made responsible and responsive. That the Supreme Court decision began to do.

As to hamstringing police, the Court decisions aimed at protecting against abuse of privacy and the dangers of police power too easily exerted have only laid down procedures long and successfully used by the FBI with no harm to its efficiency.

The new Chief Justice voted with the majority in supporting the police right to "stop and frisk." And I wouldn't expect the new Associate Justice, former Texas Congressman Homer Thornberry, to begin to move the Court in a different direction.

U.S. Still Counts On Moon Trip Next Year

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Despite those massive budget cuts in funds for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, American space scientists are going ahead with a five-step plan to beat the Russians to the moon next year.

Step one in their plan will be the first manned Apollo flight tentatively set for Sept. 20 — or approximately six weeks before the crucial 1968 presidential election.

Tagged "Apollo 7," the flight will test the refurbished command section of the Apollo moonship. This new spacecraft will be flown in earth orbit for the first time by a crew of three astronauts — Don Eisele, the command pilot, Walter Schirra, and Walter Cunningham.

If all goes well Step 2 will follow in November, according to the time schedule given the House Space Committee by Dr. George Mueller, associate director of the U.S. manned space flight program.

SECOND MANNED FLIGHT — This crucial test will involve the launching of the complete moon spacecraft, including the smaller "bug-like" vehicle designed for landing on the moon and taking off.

Although the "Space taxi," as it is called, will be carried into space during Step 2, it will not be tested under its own power until later flights.

During the November flight, a second space crew, consisting of Astronauts James McDivitt, David Scott, and Russell Schweickart, will again limit their flight to the earth orbit. Their 10-day journey is designed to gather further information on the operation of the Apollo moonship.

The full dress rehearsal for the 500,000-mile trip to the moon and back will come in Step 3 which is scheduled for early in 1969 if all goes as planned.

A THIRD CREW of astronauts — Frank Borman, Michael Collins, and Williams Anders — will take a second complete Apollo vehicle out to distances of 4,000 miles from earth.

The crew will then swing their spacecraft back toward earth to study the tricky maneuvers necessary for a safe return home on a lunar flight path.

If no serious problems develop in that flight, preparations for Step 4 — the first manned-flight into moon orbit will get underway. Date for that historic flight is now tentatively set for June 1969 — or just a year from now.

Under present plans, there will be no attempt to land on the moon during this flight. Instead, the three-man crew will go into orbit around the moon and inspect its surface from an altitude of 80 miles — or possibly even lower.

THE BIG EVENT — Once round-the-moon journey has been successfully completed, a moon landing flight — or Step 5 — will be authorized by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

As in Step 4, the Apollo mooncraft will be launched into orbit round the moon for the final journey. Then two of the astronauts will be detached from the orbiting moonship and will use the space taxi to descend to the lunar surface.

THEY WILL make a short exploration of the moon surface, then will take off and rejoin the third U.S. astronaut for the journey back to earth.

The 32,000 pound, two-state space taxi is 10 feet in diameter and 20 feet tall, with four legs and metal landing pads. Not only must this Apollo piggyback craft take two men down to the moon's surface; it must get them back to the command craft.

New Nylon Flags Will Fly Over Novato Fire Stations On Fourth

On Thursday or July 4, the residents of Novato should see bright new big flags flying from each of the three fire stations in Novato.

The fire district keeps flags flying all of the time, but these are the standard three-by-five-foot cotton flags, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

At its last meeting the fire district board authorized the purchase of three, four-by-six-foot nylon flags to fly on special occasions.

"I think that they should look much brighter and larger, and will give us one way to mark the special days when flags should be flown everywhere," the chief said.

THE NOVATO Sanitary District may go out of business. There is a serious study on the functions of that district being taken over either by the North Marin County Water District or the city of Novato, or both.

The first recommendations of the study were to dissolve the sanitary district. The methods and time it should be done have not been figured out yet.

The Novato Sanitary District, in addition to maintaining the sewers and treatment plants, handles the garbage collection for the area. This is done by granting the Novato Disposal Service an exclusive franchise to pick up the garbage.

This franchise still has five years to run, going until June 30, 1973, according to Charles Joseph, engineer-manager of the district.

However, the Novato Disposal Service wants to protect itself. It has asked for an extension of this franchise for another five years, or until June 30, 1978, for a total of 10 years, Joseph said.

NOW, WE DON'T blame anyone for wanting his business future assured for the next 10 years. However, if the Novato Sanitary District is dissolved and either the city of Novato or water district takes it over, the new governing body would have its hands tied for about 10 years before it got a chance to review the garbage franchise.

It is not that the Novato Disposal Service has poor garbage collection service, but that it does not give a new governing body a chance to call for bids and make a change for 10 years.

We have heard a few complaints about the garbage service, but mainly from people who object to the noise of the garbage collection at 4 or 5 a.m., waking them.

The sanitary board will consider extending this franchise at its meeting on July 8. In the meantime, the city and water district should be allowed to give their views to the sanitary district board on the time extension.

THOMAS HARDCASTLE, president of the Novato Sanitary District board and member of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, has announced that he is resigning. He said he would recommend former Novato City Councilman William Jack Adams to take his position.

There are many Novato residents who are starting to talk about getting Arnold Heise on the board instead of Adams. Heise is an old time Novato resident, a commuter and president of the North Marin County Water District board.

Herculean Effort Needed To Flush Out Intellectual Muck

Of the twelve labors of Hercules.. the fifth is my favorite. To make a long myth short, it goes like this:

King Augeas prized highly his vast herd of cattle but strangely enough, he had neglected the royal stables. They had not been cleaned in 30 years.

Hercules was given the task of purging them in one day. This Augean stint naturally demanded Herculean efforts and Hercules naturally was up to it. He efficiently went about his appointed chore by diverting the courses of the rivers Alpheus and Penus. The waters of the combined streams swept through the stables, giving them a much needed flushing.

Nonchalantly wiping his hands, Hercules tossed his famous lion skin over his arm, shouldered his club and went off to his sixth labor.

CLEANING OUT the Augean stables of those early days, however, was child's play compared to the prodigious task of sweeping out the Augean stables of modern times. The task is not only infinitely greater but the stuff has been accumulating for a longer period than 30 years.

It is the intellectual debris of the mind.

The ordure cluttering the 20th century intellect is not tangible and perceptible. Any present day Hercules would be faced with a task more subtle and even more formidable than that of the ancient hero, for what must be contended with is respected and revered under the honorific of knowledge, the crown jewel in the diadem of science.

THE KEY, of course, is that "knowledge" is not true knowledge but pseudo-knowledge and it clogs and coagulates the mind, inhibiting and obstructing the rational process.

Psychological theories, as an example, are frequently accepted by the general public as fact and result in curious structures being built on flimsy and unproven grounds.

Pragmatic politicians, more interested in reaping votes than in the long-range health of the nation, promise prospective voters material benefits, forgetting that no politician can give material benefits unless he first takes them away from someone else. The debris cluttering the mind in this instance is the idea of getting rather than earning . . . the latter idea being far too unpopular politically to mention.

AND AGAIN the mind is jammed with visionary concepts of rights . . . lovely word . . . while inundating the companion idea providing the necessary balance, responsibility.

And we're knee-deep in our cerebrum muck with something called "permissiveness" with our young, a concept based on sentimental idealism, and little is said for discipline and even less for self discipline.

And sloshing around in the mire of our mental puddles we slip on "relativism" and "shades of gray" theories . . . more pseudo-knowledge with which to build our intellectual castles in the mud, and urging us to discard our absolutes as obsolete.

And over there is the pile of "collectivism" growing day by day, suffocating the once proud "individualism."

These, then, are but a few of the mounds of debris clogging the 20th century intellectual stables. To flush them we need a couple of broad rivers.

Rivers named Wisdom and Courage. . . .

Property Value Over $2 Billion

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The value of privately owned taxable property in San Francisco is $2,005,116,350, with assessment rolls up $24,849,848, according to Assessor Joseph E. Tinney.

He announced yesterday the property tax rate, however, probably will rise about $2 to finance the city's new spending program. The present rate is $8.80 per $100 assessed valuation.

Value of land in the city now totals $733.2 million, a decrease of $3.2 million resulting largely from removal of $30 million from the tax base by the Redevelopment Agency. This property eventually will be returned to tax rolls in improved condition.

George Goheen Quits Redevelopment Office

George C. Goheen of Mill Valley, chairman for the past two years of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, has resigned from the agency and from the Marin County Housing Authority.

Goheen, 68, in a letter of resignation to the board of supervisors, said "problems in the construction industry" were taking too much of his time to permit service on the two agencies. He is a developer and builder.

Directors of the agency and authority, meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the Manzanita Community Center, will name a new chairman.

In January, Goheen was elected to a third one-year term as chairman of the agency. He also has served as vice chairman of the housing authority.

The supervisors first appointed Goheen to the agency and authority in 1958. He served on both until 1962, then was reappointed in 1965.

His resignation was effective last month.

Goheen lives at 21 Greenwood Way.

Supervisors today are to consider a recommendation by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs that Goheen's seat be filled on both the agency and the authority by Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., pastor of the Village Baptist Church in Marin City. Banks was an unsuccessful candidate for county supervisor in the Third District in last month's primary election.

In other business tonight, the housing authority and redevelopment agency will hear reports on the relocation schedule for tenants of the Hilarita Housing Project and on the status of the Homestead Valley apartments for senior citizens.

Also scheduled are reports on the Northgate and Novato apartment developments for senior citizens.

Summer Rec Events Begin

A summer playground recreation program, sponsored by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department, is now under way at Molino Playground in Homestead Valley.

Summer activities will include games, arts and crafts, special parties and special events such as junior olympics week, puppet show week and a playground jamboree week.

The playground will be open from 1 to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 1 to 4:30 p.m. on Fridays.

New San Anselmo Resident Welcomed By Garage Fire

A new resident received an unpleasant welcome to a San Anselmo neighborhood yesterday when someone poured gasoline all over his garage floor, causing a flash fire.

The fire, which was at 4:15 p.m., occurred at the new home of Gordon Hardin, who is moving into 200 Laurel Avenue. Hardin was not there at the time, but the smoke was seen by a neighbor, William Conner of 215 Laurel Avenue, who reported the fire.

Firemen discovered that gasoline had been poured on the cement floor of the basement garage as well as on two bicycles which were in the garage. Fire had started, firemen said, from either a hot water heater or furnace.

By the time fireman arrived, Conner had doused the fire with a garden hose. San Anselmo firemen and police are investigating the incident. Damage was estimated at $150.

A Collector Of Pressed Flint Glass

By DOROTHY NEWELL

A collection of the 40 years of flint glass or the period from 1840 to 1880 is not only displayed but also in use at the home of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Mucha at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The extensive collection of Mrs. Mucha's glass began nearly 15 years ago when she acquired her first piece of pressed flint glass. However, her interest in all types of glass began several years before that as one of her great uncles was a glass cutter and the other a glass blower in a factory in White Mills, Pa. She also has many pieces of cut glass.

THE PRESSED GLASS was first made at the beginning of the industrial revolution when glass was first made available to the working classes. Prior to this, cups and other utensils were made of pewter and other metals and glass was only available to the wealthy who could afford it, said Mrs. Mucha.

The pressed or flint glass, composed of silica, potash and lead oxide is the same formula as that used in cut glass. "There are as many glass recipes as cake recipes," Miriam Mucha said.

There was a great deal of plagarism among glass makers and molds would be made almost identical to a known pattern, Mrs. Mucha said.

Most of the molds were made of iron, but molds were also made of brass. The iron molds were the most serviceable, however, they had to be cleaned out often as the metal would become charged with the heat as the glass was poured, she said.

The pressed glass is now found mostly in private collections or museums, Miriam said. Most of her glass was found on the East Coast where it was manufactured.

Since coming to Marin County a year ago, Mrs. Mucha has joined the first California regional group of the National Early American Glass Club. She is the only Marin County member, with 100 members in the Bay Area comprising the club.

AT A RECENT exhibition at the Redwood City Library, Mrs. Mucha exhibited her collection of ribbed palm pattern flint glass. She has a complete service for eight with the exception of three champagne glasses. A set, however, includes a creamer and covered sugar, covered butter dish and spooner, which is also a part of her service.

The only piece that she has broken was a cover to the sugar, and she searched six years before finding a replacement for the piece she dropped.

Colonel Mucha is assistant director of information with the Joint Office of Information at Hamilton, and in all their travels with the Air Force, from Texas to Washington, D.C. to Germany, not a piece of glass has been broken.

"One collection leads to another," Miriam said. While they were stationed in Germany she became interested in baccaret, which was also made in the '80's and is still being produced today.

"CLARITY, WEIGHT and a bell tone when struck are some of the indications that it is a good piece of glass," she said.

"We are both inveterate collectors," Miriam said, speaking of herself and her husband. "I started with butterflies and Bob started with stamps," she said.

Bob now also has a fine collection of Netsukes which he purchased when stationed in the East. The elaborately carved figures are worn with the obi to counter balance the smoking, medicine or writing pouches. Also in the collection are snuff bottles, 'odd and curious silver pieces,' perfume and smelling salt bottles, seals and brass weights.

Mrs. Mucha is a graduate of Union Junior College in Cranford, N.J. A tall and attractive blonde, she has just finished her docent training course at the M. H. deYoung Museum in San Francisco and will begin tours later this month.

RIBBED PALM pattern makes up most of the collection of Early American pressed flint glass in the collection of Mrs. Robert Mucha of Hamilton Air Force Base, which was recently exhibited at the Redwood City Library.. The pieces displayed are back row, water pitcher, creamer and covered sugar and celery dish, which Miriam Mucha uses as a flower vase; center is low footed compote, covered butter dish and wine, champagne and goblet and foreground is spooner, tumbler, egg cup tumbler and master salt, three relish dishes and six inch plate and nappie. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

MIRIAM MUCHA enjoys reading one of her many reference books on glass, American glass by McKearin. Her table in her home at Hamilton Air Force Base is set for iced tea with the lemon dish a nappie in the peacock eye design made in the United States in 1825; her goblet is in a bullseye design; the one in the foreground is a comet design, and the pitcher is the ribbed palm design. Mrs. Mucha has more than 250 pieces of molded and cut glass in her collection.

THE PERIOD of time when the tazza was made is not known, but the tray was used to serve very sweet, thick dessert in a syllabub. The foot of the tazza is molded, the stem and plate blown and then welded together with glass wafers.

Miss Eglin Is Married

Robert N. Jackson Jr. claimed Carolyn Eglin of Mountain View as his bride in a ceremony Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church in Bakersfield.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Eglin of Bakersfield, was attended by Janet Carter of Bakersfield as maid of honor and Barbara Jost of Bakersfield, Betty Cushing and Mary Nelson of Mountain View.

Michael Osborne of Ignacio served as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Jackson of San Rafael. Ushers were Greg Klock of Mountain View; the bride's brother, Richard Eglin of Bakersfield and Bill Gannon of Sacramento.

After a wedding trip to San Diego the couple will live in Mountain View.

The bride was graduated from East Bakersfield High School and San Jose State College, and is employed with the Stanford Research Institutie in Menlo Park.

Robert was graduated from San Rafael High School and received a bachelor of science and master's degree in business administration at San Jose State College. He is employed with the nuclear division of the General Electric Co. in San Jose.

Robert is the grandson of Mrs. Claudine Jackson of San Rafael, and the brother of Debbe Lynn Jackson.

Costs Will Rise In The Year 2000

Summing-up some of the current predictions for the year 2000, one pundit predicts: an $80 man's suit will cost $270, a man's haircut may cost $10, an average automobile will cost a little under $10 thousand and an average-sized home will cost around $125 thousand. The average salary with fringe benefits will be around $36 thousand.

What about the grocery bill? Food prices would probably tag along with the other goods and services, but the percentage of after-tax income could be less, based on current trends.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Student Body President Faces Self-Questioning And Wonders

DEAR READERS:

The writer of the following letter asked me to change it "so I won't be recognized." This seems scarcely necessary, for most of us, at some time or other, share his problem. Many won't talk about it fearing as Bill does that they're the different ones, and somehow abnormal.

Now, read on and let me know how closely you relate to Bill.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm next year's student body president, active in sports, on the honor roll. I have a fantastic family life which is the envy of all my friends. I'm popular and get along with everybody. As I have quite an ego, this pleases me. Have never been in trouble nor do I expect to be.

No problem, you say? Until last week I agreed. Then, a long discussion about life in general started me thinking, and for the first time I saw myself clearly.

Helen, I'm like an actor in a play. I seem to have no emotions. Everything I do, I analyze first, tell myself how to perform for the best effect, aware that I can outsmart the situation, avoid being hurt.

I've just gone through two girl friends who attracted me physically and mentally, but once I went out with them I lost interest. Even when we were necking. I'd tell myself what to do next, as this was expected of me.

I'm always playing a role: On the football field, with people. I can't tell right now whether I'm writing this to impress you or whether I really mean it.

I have locked myself in an impenetrable shell that I can't take down, yet nobody knows it's there. I've put on a facade, impersonating the person I want to be, yet who am I, really? For the first time the shell has cracked a little and I see myself as false, a pretender. I don't believe in anything I say and I question everything I do. And I know that soon the crack will mend and everything will fall back in place in time and I'll be no better.—BILL

DEAR BILL:

Who doesn't stand on the sidelines and watch himself perform? That you feel guilty about it means the shell has cracked and soon the person you're impersonating will be the real you. I'd peg you as an easy-achiever, living in a family which smooths every bump. What you call lack of emotion really means "My emotions have never been challenged." They will, friend, they will, now that you've seen behind the facade and have begun the questioning which—I hope—will never end. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My girl friend is very well off and goes to an exclusive girls' college. She is also very pretty. Now for my problem. About a month ago she decided to start chewing tobacco. Since then her breath is atrocious and her teeth are turning yellow. I beg her to stop, but she says she enjoys it and if I love her I'll let her do as she peases. — WHAT'LL I DO?

DEAR WHAT:

Send her a spittoon—"To remember me by." — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Kathleen Winslow Is Bride

The Chapel of Grace at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco was the setting for the wedding of Kathleen Kirk Winslow of Tiburon and Walter Horace Weld of Weston, Mass., Saturday.

Maid of honor for her sister was Rebecca Winslow of Tiburon. The bridesmaids were Pamela Winslow of Tiburon, the bride's sister, Bee Kilgore of Tiburon, the bride's cousin, Pauline Livermore of San Rafael, and Margot Townsend of Rochester, N.Y.

Alexander B. Weld of Weston, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Assisting wedding guests to their places were Edward D. Weld of Weston, the bridegroom's brother, Thomas Trafton of Boston, Mass., David Winslow Jr., and Christopher Winslow, of Tiburon, the bride's brothers.

A reception was held at the bride's family home at Paradise Cove, Tiburon, after the ceremony.

Kathleen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Winslow of Tiburon. Jeffrey Winslow is also her brother. The bride is a graduate of Katharine Branson School in Ross and was graduated from Wellesley College in Wellesley, Mass., last month.

The newlyweds will live in Dover, Mass., a suburb of Boston.

Mrs. Robert Abbott Heads Delta Gamma

A Marin County philanthropic organization has elected Mrs. Robert Lynn Abobtt president. Mrs. Abbott, of Sausalito, will head the Marin County Alumnae Association of Delta Gamma.

Interested in assisting others, Marialyce Abbott is also active in Zeta Phi Eta, a professional speech fraternity.

Delta Gamma raises funds each year toward aiding the visually handicapped as well as providing a scholarship for a senior Delta Gamma member.

Suzanne Paboojean of Fresno was the recipient of the scholarship. In addition to monetary assistance by the association, individual members contribute volunteer hours to conduct visual screening in the nursery schools of Marin County.

Marialyce, whose husband is developing Wharfside, an historic office and retail complex at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, has numerous other interests.

She has been a program assistant for network television (NBC in New York); has held acting parts on television and off-Broadway plays; has worked at film dubbing and has taught English language in Rome. She was a child welfare worker for the state of South Dakota, working primarily on Indian reservations and was sales manager for KGO radio in San Francisco prior to the birth of the couple's first child.

Marialyce holds a BS degree in speech. She attended schools in South Dakota and was awarded a BS degree there from Yankton College. She studied theater and English at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. and studied at the American Theater Wing in New York City and the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco.

Hobbies for the new president are photography, cooking, sewing, reading and bridge. She has just recently joined her husband in jogging every morning. She also says she loves to travel, ride horseback and swim.

The home of the bride's parents was the setting for the reception, which preceded a wedding trip to the Northwest by the couple.

Virginia was graduated from Redwood High School and the University of California at Davis, where she received a degree in botany.

Mill Valley Park Use Curb Ideas Flounder

An attempt by the Mill Valley City Council to limit the use of city parks for fund raising to organizations having a majority of city residents as members floundered last night when councilmen learned that a favorite "local" organization has less than 20 per cent local membership.

Proposed park use regulations were then returned to the city attorney for further clarification.

The hour-long discussion on new park use regulations was precipitated by a recent court ruling that the city could not prohibit use of city parks to the San Francisco Mime Troupe under existing regulations.

During the debate, councilmen repeatedly said that park use should be limited to organizations such as the Lions Club which, said Councilman George Wickham, "return some benefits to the city through various projects."

Then Leslie A. Mize, Lions Club secretary, stood up and told the council that only six of the club's 31 members are residents of Mill Valley. "Under your proposed policy we would be prohibited from using the city's parks," Mize said. At that point the audience of more than 50 persons and the council dissolved in laughter.

Prior to the Lions' announcement, the council agreed that the use of amplified musical instruments, specifically electric guitars, in city parks should be limited to the Project 17 area or the interior of the community and youth center or the golf clubhouse.

Councilmen debated placing a time limit on the use of amplified instruments. Although the hours of 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. were suggested, the council came to no specific decision.

The council made it clear that by amplification it did not mean groups which might use a microphone.

A suggestion by Councilman Robert H. Andresen that only Mill Valley residents be allowed to use park facilities was quickly shot down by a majority of the council which agreed that such a provision would not be enforceable.

Councilmen then agreed to prohibit only those nonresident organizations wishing to use parks for fund raising events. This was challenged by Miss Joan Holden, representing the San Francisco Mime Troupe, who said such a provision might be discriminatory under the Constitution.

City Mgr. Bert Balmer noted that the Mime Troupe has applied to use the city's parks on several Sundays this summer. Barring action by the council on park use regulations, Balmer said he would give the Mime Troupe permission to perform.

Firemen Ask 7.5 Pct. Pay Increases

The Fairfax City Council last night received the last major request for salary increases in the new budget when Fire Chief Charles Thornton asked for a blanket 7.5 per cent boost in his department.

Police Chief James R. Orr had already sought 10 per cent raises for full-time employees in his department and 7.5 per cent for part-time, and Street Superintendent Edgar Phillips had requested 7.5 per cent hikes for his staff.

The 1968-69 budget was submitted by former City Administrator David J. Sumbardo. It calls for spending $466,872, down $10,049 from the past fiscal year. Salaries in the three departments account for approximately $190,900. This includes $6,924 for a new street operator-mechanic.

Salary hikes are due for discussion at Tuesday's budget meeting.

Current salaries in these departments amount to about $179,000. The requested figures total about $203,200.

The council approved a salary boost for City Atty. Wallace S. Myers from $3,600 to $4,800 per year.

When Mayor Robert R. Souza suggested at 10:45 p.m. that the council might be ready to discuss the issue of whether to fill the city administrator's post, no one took him up on the matter; it was set aside for another week.

Myers told the council that John Roscoe, executive officer of Short Stop Markets, had requested a copy of a sound test report to the city showing the refrigeration system at the Short Stop at 1601 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to be eight times as noisy as it need be.

The report, by the Dariel Fitzroy acoustical engineering firm of San Rafael, indicated that a proper sound level during the night in the area would be about 53 decibels. The refrigeration system, which has drawn complaints from neighbors since the market opened last winter, is around 65-70 decibels.

The Fitzroy report said it would be feasible for Short Stop to drop its sound level by about 10 decibels with the same refrigeration unit, according to Myers.

A drop of three decibels, Myers explained, means elimination of half the noise, so the proposed level would carry about one-eighth the current level of noise.

Mayor Souza expressed confidence that the report would make it possible to resolve the dispute soon.

The Fairfax City Council last night also:

BUSINESS — Received a proposal from former Councilman Stanley W. Little that it encourage a "buy Fairfax" attitude among residents by promising to reduce property taxes next year according to any increase in commercial tax revenue attributable to such a program.

MEETINGS — Set the next budget meeting for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Fairfax Women's Club, the day after the regular council meeting in the same place at the same time.

Library To Show Finger Puppets

Finger puppets designed and made by a Mill Valley housewife will be on exhibit in the Mill Valley Library starting Monday.

The puppets, designed by Mrs. Philip W. Meyer of 34 Mountain View Avenue represent the characters in the 1967 Caldecott Medal winner, "Drummer Hoff," illustrated by Ed Emberley and the two runner-up books, "Seashore Story" by Taro Yashima and "Frederick" by Leo Leonni.

The exhibit will be in the main display case in the lobby through July 26.

Hula Dance Classes Signups Still Open

Enrollment is still open in two dance classes specializing in Hawaiian and Tahitian hulas at the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center.

The classes, which started June 26, will run for eight weeks under the direction of Dionne Chamberlain. Classes will be held on Wednesdays from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. for adults and from 2 to 3 p.m. for children. Registration will be taken before classes tomorrow.

Mill Valley Balks Behr On Gun Control Action

Mill Valley City Council last night turned a deaf ear to pleas of Supervisor Peter H. Behr that the city enact a gun registration ordinance.

In an eloquent appeal, Behr said local action would be more of a catalyst for state action than the resolutions "which we all send to Sacramento by the bushel basket full."

Councilmen disagreed and voted unanimously to delay action until Sept. 25 on a local gun registration requirement. They also voted 4-1 to urge the state Legislature to "enact more effective and more rigid gun controls."

Councilman Rodric L. Robinson dissented, saying he felt the resolution should specifically mention gun registration.

Robinson also urged the council to delay action until after the Legislature adjourns in late September because "a gun registration law can only be effective at the state or federal level."

Councilman Robert H. Andresen agreed, noting that the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen had voted to delay action until Sept. 25 to give the state time to act.

"Failing action on the state level, I feel local governments should pass their own laws," Andresen said.

Behr told the council that action by Mill Valley or Marin County "Is not the tail that wags the dog, but that accumulative action by many local governments can be impressive at the state level."

Behr said Los Angeles County has indicated it will adopt a registration law similar to that recently adopted by San Francisco and Marin counties.

"When Los Angeles County adopts an ordinance, you will see state action and not before," Behr said.

He said local governments have the duty to constituents to enact registration laws after the state and federal governments have failed to do so for 34 years.

"If you believe that gun enthusiasts want gun control at the state or federal level, you are sadly mistaken."

Few in the audience of more than 50 persons spoke to the issue.

William F. Ramsey Jr. of 77 Matilda Avenue, who noted he had previously urged the city council to go on record against the Vietnam War, said that gun registration will "only cause a bother and expense to the law abiding citizen."

Rev. D. Murray Hammond, chairman of the Mill Valley Community Relations Committee, said gun registration is "Not an attempt to confiscate guns but only an attempt to keep track of them. Why people are afraid to have guns kept track of is beyond me," Hammond said.

Councilmen Unruffled By Missile Base

Mil Valley City Council showed little concern last night at the prospect of an antiballistic missile base being installed on Angel Island or Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito.

Counciman George Wickham asked for council reaction to the recent announcement that the two locations are being considered as sites for the Sentinel systems missile base. Wickham said army officials had asked him to determine the council's feelings concerning the proposal.

"Well, the Air Force has always been a good neighbor," commented Councilman Jerome C. Hauke.

"I don't mind the Air Force; it's just the things they carry around with them," added Councilman Rodric L. Robinson.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer asked why the missile base "must be located in a highly populated area such as the San Francisco Bay Area. It would make more sense to me if they put it where there are less people," Meyer said.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen said that "using the center of Angel Island doesn't make too much sense to me, although I'm not a missile expert."

Noting that the state Parks and Recreation Department has proposed to put a sight seeing train on the island, Andresen said the missile base might "be the lesser of the two evils."

An engineering team from Boeing Co. of Seattle has been in Southern Marin for the past 10 days surveying the area for community reaction. A second team from the Army Corps of Engineers office in Sacramento is studying the two sites for geological suitability.

The announcement on the final site selection is due from the Army in three to six months.

BUDGET—Adopted the 1968-69 fiscal budget of $2,000,406 and establishing salaries for city employees as approved during budget hearings.

Double Duo Will Perform On July 25

The Marin Double Duo will present its second annual "Music for a Summer Evening" concert on July 25 at 8:15 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

The Double Duo, which is dedicated to the presentation of seldom performed works for piano and string instruments, is composed of violinist Charles Meacham and his wife, pianist Robaline Meacham, and violist Lucien Mitchell and his wife, cellist Jean Mitchell, all of Mill Valley.

They will perform Mendelssohn's Piano Quartet, Op. 1, No. 1; three madrigals for violin and viola by Bohuslav Martinu; Sonata in D Minor for Cello and Piano by Archangelo Corelli, and Piano Quartette, Op. 15, No. 1 by Faure.

Tickets may be reserved by writing the Marin Double Duo at 330 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley.

Children's Reading Set In Mill Valley

A children's summer reading program will start July 9 at the Mill Valley Library.

Participants in the seven-week program will receive a chart and fish sticker upon completion of a first book and will try to read seven or more books each before Aug. 24, according to Margo Farnsworth, children's librarian.

Business License Revisions On Agenda

A proposal to revise business license fees will be heard by the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall. The ordinance, proposed by City Mgs. George M. Patterson, would establish the license fees on the basis of gross revenues rather than a flat fee as now established.

The council is also due to adopt its proposed $1,174,462 budget for 1968-69 and to hear a proposal by Patterson to increase the parking fee in the city's parking lot No. 1 behind the Vina del Mar Plaza.

Adopted Budget Higher; Tax Rate Down 1.8 Cents

The Mill Valley City Council last night unanimously adopted a $2,000,406 budget for fiscal 1968-69.

The budget represents an increase of $199,880 over this year's $1,800,526 budget and requires a tax rate of $2.307 per $100 assessed valuation, a decrease of 1.8 cents from the current rate of $2.325.

The proposed $2.307 tax rate will produce property tax revenues of $738,149 as compared to $730,566 this year.

The council also adopted a resolution establishing a 3.5 per cent pay increase for city employees and an additional 1.5 per cent increase for two library assistants to bring the positions into line with the city's pay schedule. The salary increases will cost the city $27,021 next year.

Marin Soprano To Be Soloist At Pops Concert

Marin soprano Margreet Winkler, 22, will be a soloist in the San Francisco Symphony Pops Concert under Arthur Fiedler Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium. This will be her first appearance with a major orchestra.

She will sing the "Suicidio" aria from Ponchielli's opera "La Gioconda," and the Cavatina "Porgi Amor" from Mozart's opera "The Marriage of Figaro."

The singer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Winkler of Larkspur, has been in New York two years, studying with Lili Wexberg, the teacher with whom Mill Valley's soprano Jane Marsh has been studying.

Miss Winkler is now participating in the San Francisco Opera's Merola program.

Burglary Suspect To Juvenile Court

The case of Stanley Weaver, 18, accused of two counts of burglary, yesterday in Marin Superior Court was certified to juvenile court for handling as a minor.

Weaver, of San Francisco, and Roger Wayne Ploof, 18, of San Rafael, are jointly accused of burgling a building occupied by Elaine A. Romano of 399 Crown Road, Kent Woodlands, and a building occupied by Barbara Norwitt, 5 St. Lucia Place, Paradise Cay, both on March 27.

Trial of Ploof is pending.

American Music

"American Music: What's That?" is the title and theme for a 4:15 p.m. public lecture tomorrow in Angelico Hall at Dominican College in San Rafael. The lecture, which will utilize slides and music, will be given by Mary Dominic, O.P., director of the American Music Research Center.

FORMULA VOTED 4-1

Hub Council Raises Payroll 10 Per Cent

The San Anselmo City Council last night mulled over several employee pay raise plans for its 1968-69 budget, then adopted one which provides an average 10 per cent increase.

The council failed, however, to complete its entire budget and yet another meeting, the seventh study session, was scheduled for 7:45 p.m. Monday.

Ranging from 7.5 per cent to 12.5 per cent in salary hikes, the new pay system will cost the city $61,808 above the nearly $616,000 it currently is paying in salaries, a total of about $677,808.

It provides for first bringing to a countywide average the pay in 16 categories which have been the lowest in the county. It also puts a maximum of 5 per cent adjustment on the six positions in the city's 29 employee categories which by the county average system would have gotten more than a 5 per cent adjustment.

Then, after meeting the countywide average, and the limiting of all categories to the 5 per cent maximum, the council added a blanket 7.5 per cent raise for all positions on the salary scale.

The adjustment and raise gives the police and fire departments a total increase of 9.9 per cent. They have repeatedly sought a 10 per cent across the board increase, and spokesmen last night expressed satisfaction with the new figure.

The raise system came on the motion of Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson and passed by a 4-1 vote with Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro against it.

Earlier, Capurro's motion that a 10 per cent raise be given without meeting the countywide average was seconded by Councilman Anderson so a vote could be had, but was then defeated 1-4.

A suggestion by Councilman James F. Reed that the council make adjustments to the 5 per cent maximum, grant a 5 per cent blanket raise, and then give 2.5 per cent additional raise in January failed to gain enough enthusiasm to go to vote.

Councilmen admitted the approved raise system tentatively has hiked the city's tax rate to about $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation from this year's $2.06 rate, but expressed hope of paring the figure at Monday's meetings when further capital improvement expenditure are to be studied.

The council had been aiming at a budget of $1,008,237, about 15 per cent lower than the current budget of $1,214,652, and to retain the existing tax rate of $2.06 because no large public works projects are planned for the new year.

The holding of the tax rate line, however, had not included any pay raise plan.

Still to be considered is the means of paying the $26,000 due for taxes and interest in the city's acquisition of the Robson-Harrington Park property. Councilmen discussed the possibility of budgeting $10,000, then taking the remainder out of reserve funds designated for building a new fire house and for payment on the condemned Northwestern Pacific Railroad depot. They took no action pending further study.

A $5,000 widening project for Greenfield Avenue was deleted last night from the capital improvement plan, along with $12,000 previously proposed for replacement of an old fire engine.

The council agreed, however, that $5,000 expenditure will be necessary to update the city's master plan.

Mayor Duane C. Ragan said that during the past few years the council's trend has been to reduce the tax rate or keep it the same. Because of this, he said, capital improvements have "remained in limbo and we are now in the position where the past has caught up with us.

"Our salary picture must be improved and some of our desperately needed capital improvements must become a reality," he added.

Marin Inventor Sees New Industry In Garbage Piles

By GLENN ANDERSON

To most people, garbage is just garbage. But to Fred J. Brooks of Santa Venetia, it represents a potential bonanza.

The soft-spoken, gray-haired inventor, who is in his mid 50s, is pushing a unique scheme for disposing of the mountains of garbage American cities will generate in the future — selling them.

Brooks, of 67 Vendola Drive, has invented a solid waste disposal plant which, installed on a half-acre site, could, he said, turn almost all Marin garbage into marketable items.

Paper garbage fed into it would, he said, emerge as four-foot-by-four-foot compressed wallboard half an inch thick which could be used for building material or as a pulp source for paper or box-making.

He maintained a profit could be made from sale of the boards alone since, by his estimate, 55 per cent of all garbage is paper. Other estimates, he said, indicate an even higher proportion of paper.

Income from sale of additional products gained in the complex scheme would, he said, be "just cream."

The "cream" would include tin cans separated into their aluminum and iron components by an electro-magnet, glass and plastic ground and compressed into saleable forms and food garbage converted to fertilizer.

Leaves, branches, limbs and other wood, sorted by hand from demolition garbage, would be fed into a burner, resulting in a free supply of energy.

The heart of the plant would be a series of water-filled tanks into which the bulk of the garbage would be fed.

The churning water inside the tanks, which would absorb odors the garbage would otherwise emit, would separate light and heavy items by their specific gravity.

Plastics and other light objects would float to the top while heavy materials would sink to the bottom, permitting their removal from the tank for separate processing.

The paper, meanwhile, would be churned into pulp by the water agitation. Once thoroughly torn apart, the pulp would move into a separate chamber to be dried and compressed into the boards.

Food garbage, removed from the tanks when water is filtered, would be converted to fertilizer.

A native of Canada who moved to the Bay Area from Vancouver, B. C., nine years ago, Brooks is founder, president and principal shareholder in Astrotronic Research, Inc., the firm which is trying to sell the plant.

He said his career as an inventor goes back to Canadian forests in World War II when, working for a logging firm, he devised a "cherry picker," a truck arch-winch trailer mechanism that put logs in the water "cheaper than any other company in the district."

He founded Astrotronic Research in 1959 for research and development of his ideas. That year, he moved to the Bay Area and became a research engineer designing instruments for a Palo Alto electronics firm.

In the past five years, he said, he has successively invented a home unit for converting salt or otherwise impure water into fresh water, a home unit which would handle disposal of waste and garbage, and the solid waste disposal plant.

He said he would like to see manufacture of all three inventions started, but is concentrating on the solid waste plant.

He is seeking to negotiate sale, rent, lease or any other arrangement for use of the plant by private firms or government agencies, he said. All he needs is a buyer.

PURIFYING SALT WATER—Fred J. Brooks, Santa Venetia resident who has invented a plant he says could process garbage into marketable products, demonstrates another of his inventions, two models of which are shown, a small home unit which purifies salt or otherwise impure water. Supervisors Shelve Supersecretary Idea

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today dropped its proposal that five to seven "supersecretaries" be selected for a special pay bonus.

The proposal foundered when the personnel commission found it impossible to make the selections without being arbitrary.

The commission in a workshop today with the supervisors, requested the supervisors to "specify objective criteria" for the selection, or to drop the proposal.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr, conceding the proposal should "be given a proper funeral," said "it has created more difficulties than it would have solved."

Behr said he had been "very much persuaded" by an Independent-Journal editorial urging the proposal be dropped. The editorial, citing the difficulties of the commission in attempting to carry out the proposal, concluded it "will prove unworkable."

The only support given the proposal was by Randall M. Prevo, general manager of the Marin County Employees Association. The editorial treated the proposal "with levity and without the research and thought that should have gone into it, and clouded the issue," he said.

"It doesn't solve the matter at all to back off from it," said Prevo.

Supervisors John F. McInnis assured Prevo that today's agreement to drop the proposal "is not necessarily its demise."

Mrs. Degenhardt is giving a class for youngsters under 7 years old on Saturdays from 1 to 2 p.m. at Isabel Book School and one from 2 to 3 p.m. on Thursdays at Wade Thomas School, for children 8 to 12 years old.

Registrations may be made by calling the parks and recreation department.

Cash Box, $50 Reported Stolen

Two cash boxes containing a total of $50 were stolen from the concession booth at the Elks Club swimming pool in San Rafael sometime after midnight yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

Officers said the thieves entered the booth by removing the door pins.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF FIREWORKS BAN

Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom warned today that the county's ordinance forbidding shooting off fireworks will be strictly enforced over the Fourth of July holiday.

The manufacturing, storing, sale or discharging of fireworks is prohibited in the unincorporated area of Marin and violators subject to up to six months in jail or a fine up to $500 or both fine and imprisonment, the chief warned.

The ban includes beach areas of Marin, but public displays can be given with consent of the county board of supervisors, he reported.

Tiburon School: Flag Of Caution

The Tamalpais High School District board, warned by architects that the proposed $5.4 million for a new high school in Tiburon may not be enough, agreed last night to seek itemized costs for some phases of the project, which might have to be dropped or postponed.

"We do want to wave a flag of caution," Eugene Crawford, architect for the Tiburon school said. He cited increases in construction costs as the principal reason the proposed funds might not cover plans.

The Tiburon school is part of a $9,900,500 bond issue to be voted on in November. A new high school in San Geronimo Valley, estimated at $4,175,000 is also included.

The schools are being planned to be comparable in facilities. The Tiburon cost is higher because of site improvements.

The board agreed to have items such as a wood and metal shop and football field priced separately in the bids in case some phase of the planned building in Tiburon has to be dropped.

A little theater, which has received strong support Tiburon residents, was listed in the resolution to be priced seaparately. The board removed it from the list because of this support, but noted it and other items could still be on the list of alternates.

Dr. John C. Siemens, board president, explained the alternates are "to give us flexibility." If bids are higher than the allotted funds, the board could drop a specific item and still build the rest of the school.

So far, the San Geronimo School architect, Ralph Priestly, has not asked to include alternates. However, he told the board last night that costs of running water to the school site would be about $145,000, much higher than anticipated.

Priestly estmated current plans would be more than $100,000 higher than the $4,175,000 estimate, if fees already paid his firm must be included in that amount.

The board said they are included and Priestly said, "I don't see any way to whittle this down other than take out building space." He did not suggest specific cuts.

He said construction cost increases, mostly in the last 30 days, have "shaken all of us in the building industry to where we don't know what will happen in the next 30 days."

In other business, high school students from Marin City, especting to lose their bus service in October, were assured of the board's continuing interest in the problem.

However, the board made no financial commitment to continue the service when the current grant of $10,000 from the San Francisco Foundation runs out.

A petition with about 650 signatures, requesting bus service be provided beyond October, has been received. Board members favor having the county take on school bus transportation.

A Mill Valley woman in the audience asked the board to encourage development of foot and bike paths between Marin City and Mill Valley, to keep the young people off the highway. "I do believe we are doing a disservice if we give them wheels," she said.

The Tamalpais High School Board Also:

Tam High Budget At $8.6 Million

A publication budget totaling $8,643,308 was approved last night by the Tamalpais High School District trustees. Final approval is expected at their meeting Aug. 5.

The budget is higher than the tentative budget of $8,601,188 adopted last month and is almost $650,000 higher than this year's budget of $8,035,958. A 1 or 2-cent tax rate increase is expected, according to Edward J. Neumeir, district administrative assistant. This year's tax rate is $2.22 per $100 assessed valuation.

Chief increases in the publication budget over the preliminary budget were for the Opportunity School, a state-authorized plan to provide special attention for potential drop-outs.

The plan authorizes districts to levy up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for Opportunity Schools. The publication budget includes $31,120 for Opportunity School capital outlay and $6,950 for salary for the school coordinator.

The major increases in this year's budget over last year's are for teachers salaries.

Tiburon Fireman Says He Was Not In Truck

Egineer Robert J. Wallerman, of the Tiburon Fire District, denied today that he was in the cab of a $15,000 squad truck, damaged when it rolled downhill in a grass fire Sunday above Taylor Road, as was reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Wallerman said he drove the truck to the fire. When he saw it start to roll, he said he tried to jump into the cab in an effort to stop it, but fell and bruised his ankle.

Library Board Topic

Duties of the three high school girls who work as pages in the San Anselmo Library were discussed last night by the library board. The board also was informed by its staff that the story hour for children being offered this summer is very popular.

25 Pct. Of Painters Are Idle

Approximately 25 per cent of Marin's 500 painters are idle, the result of a no-contract—no-work agreement which became effective yesterday, the day after their contract expired.

The Marin painters are among 2,000 North Coast area painters involved in the labor dispute.

About 40 Marin contractors have signed agreements with Painters Union Local No. 83 to give a $1.64½-cent wage increase over the next three years, a union spokesman said.

The painters original request had been for $2.25 and the contractors had offered 75 cents, an empolyees' spokesman said.

The basic wage is now $5.22 an hour plus $1.295 in fringe benefits.

No meetings have been scheduled between the union and the contractors.

San Rafael Demands Behr Planning Apology

The San Rafael City Council today demanded that Supervisor Peter H. Behr retract and apologize for his recent statements that cutting the county planning department budget "would reduce us to the kind of planning produced by the City of San Rafael."

Behr flatly rejected the demand, terming it "headline hunting for obvious political purposes."

Behr's remark, made on June 22, was aimed at Supervisor John F. McInnis, former mayor of San Rafael, when McInnis launched his unsuccessful try to cut one-third of the county planning department's $390,000 budget.

The demand was presented to the board of supervisors today by San Rafael City Planning Dir. Herbert G. Hotchner, who said the council voted unanimously last night to make the demand.

Hotchner, in a prepared statement that took him 15 minutes to read, noted that Behr "does not reside in San Rafael, and it is not up to him to imply that any standards other than his own are bad, simply because they are different from what he has in mind."

"I've made many remarks I would rather have apologized for than this one," said Behr," and I don't apologize for them either."

Behr concluded that the attack was "a significant disservice to city-county relationships.

Marin County Planning Commissioner Margaret Azevedo, commenting from the audience, said, "If the City of San Rafael is as concerned with planning as it appears to be, then it ought to join the City-County Planning Council." San Rafael previously chose not to join the council.

False Arrest Suit Filed By Novatan

A Novato man yesterday sued the City of Novato for $20,565 damages for alleged false arrest and imprisonment last Oct. 6.

The Marin Superior Court suit charges that Novato Police Sgt. William Cann and Patrolman Ronald Schanaker wrongly arrested the plaintiff, Vincent A. Cozzi, on a charge of failure to leave a scene when ordered to do so by the officers.

Police said a 12,000-volt line was broken in Novato by a falling tree. One of the electrical lines was touching a car occupied by Mrs. Cozzi, officers said, and Cozzi, standing near the vehicle, was ordered to leave. He refused, according to the report, and was charged with failure to evacuate the area of a calamity.

Mrs. Cozzi was uninjured.

Cozzi, booked in County Jail, charges he suffered great distress from the arrest. The charge was later amended to disturbing the peace. Cozzi was acquitted by a Marin Municipal Court jury Dec. 5. He filed a claim of damages with the City of Novato and the claim was rejected Dec. 27.

Rockefeller Center West Work Begins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Work is under way on "Rockefeller Center West."

Ground breaking ceremonies yesterday marked beginning of a vast new complex including a 60-story tower, a 45-story office building, a brace of 25-story buildings and three theaters.

Prime mover of the project, Chase Manhattan Bank President David Rockefeller, told the gathering: "In this election year it may seem surprising to see a nonpolitical Rockefeller come to the microphone."

Also speaking were two other partners in the huge project, John Portman of Atlanta, Ga., and Trammel Crow of Dallas, Tex.

"We're not just building a building," said Portman. "We're building an urban environment."

The location is a waterfront area where masted sailing ships once lay at anchor.

The completed center will occupy five blocks, about half in parks and promenades.

First to go up will be the office building, slated for completion in 1970.

Police Trap Suspects In DuPont Theft

MIAMI (UPI)—A Miami detective posing as a rare coin buyer yesterday recovered the $100,000 Brasher Doubloon, part of a $1.5 million rare coin collection stolen from the home of multimillionaire Willis DuPont.

Four persons were arrested as the trap was sprung in a Miami motel room.

Police said William Ptrick Metzler, 27, an ex-convict and a diver for a salvage company, was charged with concealing and receiving stolen property. He was arrested when he presented the rare Brasher Doubloon to Sgt. R.A. Ellsworth, whom he thought was a coin buyer.

Also arrested was Metzler's father, Eddie Metzler Sr., 57, who gave a New York address, and an older brother, Eddie Metzler Jr., 37, who was released later.

A 16-year-old girl waiting in Metzler's car outside the motel room was taken into custody by juvenile authorities.

Police then later raided the Miami apartment of 20-year-old Joy Lou Belyew, arrested the young woman and recovered several thousand dollars worth of valuables.

Computers Tracking Epileptic Brain Waves

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The use of miniscule brain implants and computer analysis offers new hope for many victims of temporal lobe epilepsy — about one-quarter of all epileptics—a neurologist reports.

But the procedure remains too costly for use as a routine treatment, Dr. Richard D. Walter of the University of California at Los Angeles said Monday in reporting on a five-year research project on epilepsy.

Walter said one of the goals of the project was to develop a means of locating the portion of the temporal lobe, above the ear on each side of the brain, responsible for epileptic seizures. Such seizures could be eliminated, Walter said, if the malfunctioning portion of the brain were removed, but doctors could not operate without knowing exactly which part that was.

In an effort to pinpoint the area, from 12 to 14 extremely thin electrodes were implanted deep in the brains of 30 victims of temporal lobe epilepsy, Walter said.

These would be left in place for from four to six weeks, he added, and the brain waves of the patients recorded. Computers then were used to digest the massive amount of information in an effort to locate the point from which the abnormal brain waves that triggered seizures eminated, Walter said.

The neurologist said 15 of the patients involved in the experiment reported no seizures for up to four years. Surgery proved only partially successful in 10 other cases and in five of the patients, the trouble area of the lobes could not be pinpointed, he added.

Walter called the results of the study encouraging. He added that about 75 per cent of all epileptics can prevent seizures by using drugs, but that so far only surgery has been found to be beneficial in cases of temporal lobe epilepsy.

Fifth Humphrey Grandchild Born

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey III gave birth last night to a seven-pound, two-ounce baby girl — making it five grandchildren for Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The baby, daughter of Lee and Skip Humphrey, was born at Midway Hospital in St. Paul, Minn.

The child will be named Pamela Katherine.

Seamen's Union Strike Settled With Pay Hike

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Maritime Union has ended its three-day strike, which idled 128 American-flag ships, with an agreement calling for a 5 per cent increase in base wages and 15 more vacation days.

Theodore W. Kheel, arbitrator under the contract between the seaman's union and two employer groups, announced the settlement yesterday and said, "The strike shall end immediately."

The strike by the 55,000-member AFL-CIO Union, which represents unlicensed seamen, began Saturday on the East, West and Gulf coasts.

Because two of the three strike days had fallen on the weekend, when there is relatively little activity along the waterfronts, the walkout did not cause a serious disruption of U.S.-flag shipping.

However, shortly before the agreement was announced, the Defense Department in Washington said 24 ships loaded with military cargo, most of it bound for Vietnam, had been held up.

San Diego Joins In Guns Turn-In

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Mayor Frank Curran is asking all citizens to turn in their guns during the month of July.

Curran said yesterday that guns will be accepted at city fire stations with no questions asked.

"Even a single gun turned which might otherwise fall into the hands of an amateur or an unstable person and cause the death of an innocent person will more than justify this voluntary campaign," the mayor said.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Drugs Relieve Pressures Of Some Phobia Situations

VAN DELLEN

Phobias are unnatural fears that create anxiety whenever the victim is faced with certain situations or objects. Those with claustrophobia, for example, dread confined spaces such as elevators or closets. Some phobias are an annoyance; others lead to severe incapacity. In addition, they may be difficult to treat.

Recently, a physician writing in The Lancet, an English medical journal told of his success with diazepam (Valium) in relieving phobic-related anxieties. Dosage was based on the severity of the fear. For example, the usual dose was doubled when the phobia led to a stressful and anxiety-provoking experience.

THE ENGLISH medico mentioned agoraphobia (fear of open spaces), a disorder in which the individual is afraid to venture out. A housewife with this problem may experience such intense anxiety on leaving home that she never wants to travel.

There are instances in which the sufferer has gone out only a few times in 10 or more years. Diazepam relieves anxiety, but it does not cure the phobia or erase the emotional basis of it.

Agoraphobia is an example of a phobia involving a situation that cannot be avoided, except by curtailing certain activities. Those who fear flying, snakes, or animals may manage fairly well by avoiding the culprits.

THE INDIVIDUAL cannot be "talked out" of his phobia by ridicule or shame. He knows his apprehensions are silly and unrealistic, but this does not solve the problem. In addition, he is aware that the anxiety is on an emotional basis. But, he cannot control his reaction to objects or situations that cause fearfulness.

In treating phobias, the psychiatrist tries to minimize current emotional stresses that reactivate old, forgotten psychic problems.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

PEPTIC ULCERS

J. M. writes: Is pyloric ulcer treated the same as stomach ulcer?

REPLY

Medical treatment may be the same but diagnosis often presents a difficult problem. Ulcer of the stomach may lead to cancer whereas the more common pyloric or duodenal ulcer seldom, if ever, becomes malignant. As a result, additional diagnostic tests are performed if stomach ulcer is suspected.

GIRL WITH B.O.

A reader writes: One of the girls in our office has body odor so bad we all hate to go near her. No one wants to speak to her about this. Do you have a leaflet covering this condition that we could place on her desk?

REPLY

Yes, but why make me the heavy? Our leaflet on body odor may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

GROWING CHEST HAIR

D. B. writes: Since we all know that eating bread crusts does not put hair on the chest, is there a medical way to instigate growth in this area? P.S. I am a 32-year-old man.

REPLY

The pattern of hair growth is hereditary and may be altered by the glands. If you want my opinion, forget it. Serious consequences may follow if you disrupt the glandular balance of the body.

FEELINGS OF UNREALITY

N. A. writes: During the last year and a half, I sometimes have feelings of unreality. Is this a sign of insanity?

REPLY

Not if you mean daydreaming.

Today's Health Hint — Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation should be started immediately in drownings.

Current Fire Chief

Richard Oswald is chief of the Tamalpais Valley Fire Department, not Herbert Owens as incorrectly reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal account of weekend fires. Oswald made the report of the Saturday fire in the valley. Former Chief Owens retired in January.

The floor of the Atlantic Ocean, a mountainous submarine expanse, covers one-sixth of the earth's surface.

Marin Seamen On USS Oriskany

Five Marin County residents are serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier Oriskany which is currently undergoing overhaul at San Francisco Bay Naval Shipyard.

They are Seaman Joseph R. Jackson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jackson of 26 D Street, San Rafael; Aviation Boatswain's Mate Lawrence D. Mayer, 18, son of Mrs. Gloria L. Mayer of 136 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael; Data Systems Technician 2/c Robert C. Hiatt, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hiatt of 12 St. John's Court, Novato; Seaman Apprentice Paul Ingels, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ingels of 40 Stuyvesant Drive, San Anselmo, and Seaman Darrell W. Young, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin E. Young of 200 Bolinas Street, Fairfax.

The carnation is the flower of the month for January.

Bel Marin Keys District Seeks Channel Funds

The Bel Marin Keys Community Service District will try to borrow money to dredge out the 1,000-foot channel to the Petaluma River.

The district board instructed Mrs. James Zoeller, secretary, to write to the county council to see if the district could borrow the money, said publicity chairman Joan Wrightsman.

The action was taken at a special meeting of the board Thursday night, she said.

Douglas Bradshaw of the Midvalley Savings and Loan Association of Marysville, one of the firms financing homes in the Bel Marin Keys area, told the board that he had an estimate of $65,000 to do the work, according to Mrs. Wrightsman. He said that the financing firms would not do the dredging but that it would be up to the community service district which is in charge of the waterways there, she said.

Auto Thief Sent To State Youth Authority

An 18-year-old Rio Vista youth, Kenneth Adrian Fuller, was sent to the California Youth Authority yesterday in Marin Superior Court for auto theft.

Probation Given In Marijuana Sales

Richard Nixon Applebee, 23, was placed on three years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for two counts of selling marijuana.

The former Larkspur resident sold marijuana April 7, 1965, and again May 28, 1965. Delay in sentencing was because he has been serving a federal sentence for smuggling.

Marichal Tries To End Baleful Giant Doldrums

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Juan Marichal, "the stopper," pitches for the San Francisco Giants tonight against the Atlanta Braves with the Giants desperately needing a victory to keep from falling out of the National League race.

The Giants dropped their third straight game, 5-1, to the Braves yesterday in the first game of their four-game series. Bob Bolin was the loser in a game the Giants literally gave away.

Marichal has stopped three-game losing streaks three times this year. He also has stopped two-game streaks three times while compiling a 14-3 record, tops in the N.L.

Pat Jarvis (8-5) goes tonight for the Braves who lead the Giants by a full game and a few percentage points in the fight for second place. The St. Louis Cardinals, who come to town for a three-game set this weekend, lead the Braves by six games and the Giants by seven.

The Braves scored two unearned runs against the Giants in yesterday's games as a result of throwing errors by third baseman Frank Johnson. Johnson had a third error but it didn't figure in the scoring.

Meanwhile, the Giants touched knuckleballer Phil Niekro, who needed relief help in the eighth and ninth innings, for eight hits and three walks and scored just one run. They left 10 runners stranded on the bases and in the three-game losing streak have stranded a total of 26.

A double by Willie McCovey, an infield hit by Jim Hart and a pinch-hit single by Dave Marshall in the sixth accounted for the lone San Francisco tally. By then the Giants were down 3-1.

A double by Clete Boyer, Johnson's first error and singles by Joe Torre and Tito Francona gave the Braves two runs in the third and they added another in the top of the sixth on two walks and a single by Boyer.

The Braves got their fourth run in the eighth on Johnson's bad throw on Sonny Jackson's bouncer to third, a passed ball, wild pitch and a single by Felipe Alou, and scored their final run in the ninth on a double by Torre and a single by Francona.

Bolin retired after seven innings and saw his record go to 2-2. He was charged with six hits, five bases on balls and two earned runs.

Frank Linzy finished up and gave up three hits and one earned run.

Young Reds Hurler Nolan Is Tough Bulldog At Work

Gary Nolan is a young man with an Irish smile that he never flashes while at work. Nolan wears the bulldog look of a determined Irishman when he is working which is every fourth day in Cincinnati's pitching rotation.

It was Nolan's turn to pitch during the weekend and he shutout the Giants 5-0 on a four-hitter. Not only did he blank the Candlestick kids, he personally beat them with a three-run homer. Never previously had Nolan hit a home run in his brief professional baseball career.

Naturally, Nolan talked more about his homer than his pitching. All pitchers, young or old, are that way. But Mel Harder, pitching coach of the Reds, talked about the impressive mound performance of the young righthander who just turned 20 last month.

"Gary," said Harder, "has tremendous desire to win, possibly more in Candlestick than elsewhere because his relatives and friends come down from his hometown of Oroville to see him.

Turned It On Vs. Giants

"He really turned it on to get his sixth career shutout. He had fine control of his fast ball and threw his curve at several different speeds. Gary has done everything we thought he could do."

Harder, like Nolan, was 18 when he made his major league debut for Cleveland in 1928. Harder should be an authority on 18 year olds. He saw Bob Feller make his blazing debut with the Indians in 1936 at age 18.

"Feller was faster than Gary," said Harder. "He was one of the fastest in all baseball. But Nolan, in his rookie year last season when he was 14-8, had better control than Feller did in the beginning.

Nolan's Gotta Have Heart

There was something else Nolan had as a rookie. Perhaps Gene Mauch described it best after Nolan notched his first professional shutout May 14, 1967, in a brilliant five-hit 1-0 blanking of the Phillies.

"Every major league club," said Mauch, "probably has a kid in the minors with as much ability as Nolan has, but what the other kids don't have is Nolan's makeup — heart — or whatever you want to call it."

As he worked his way to an impressive 14-8 rookie record last season, Nolan acted like a poised, mature veteran instead of a young man who was born May 27, 1948 in Herlong, just outside Oroville.

He had always dreamed of pitching in Candlestick and on April 25, 1967, he went up against the ace of the Giants, Juan Marichal. Some 300 Oroville fans, including Nolan's high school coaches and his family, came to see him.

Giants Interested In Nolan

Nolan struck out Willie Mays in the first inning of his Candlestick debut but then Jim Ray Hart hit a home run and the Reds never caught up.

"When you lose," said Nolan following that initial defeat in Candlestick, "You can't express yourself very well. There isn't much I can say except that I fulfilled a boyhood dream by pitching in Candlestick. The Giants showed quite a bit of interest in me when I was in high school."

Indeed, they did. Giant scouts closely followed Nolan's career. But by 1966 baseball's free agent draft was already in effect. Cincinnati scouts also had heard about Nolan. The Reds picked him as their first choice in the June draft of 1966.

Pro Grid Players Expected To Strike

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Professional football players have voted 377-17 to strike, the Knoxville News-Sentinel said National Football League players, in a telephone poll conducted by player representatives, voted not to report to pre-season training camps.

"There figures to be a strike unless the NFL club owners and the players association come to an agreement this week," the News-Sentinel added.

Club owners and player representatives met in Detroit last week to discuss demands of the NFL Players' Association.

The News-Sentinel said the owners offered at the sessions to pay an additional $14,000 per club into the players' pension fund and $350 for each exhibition game for players with five years experience and $300 for those with four years experience.

The newspaper said it learned that players on several teams, including the champion Green Bay Packers and Baltimore Colts, voted unanimously to strike.

Rookies are scheduled to begin reporting for practice next week. Veterans will report later. Reporting dates vary for each club.

The Players Association has been seeking a minimum salary similar to that of baseball's major leagues. NFL players now get an allowance of $10 a day when in training or playing an exhibition game. They want $500 for each exhibition game.

Management of the 16 clubs have contended the demands are excessive, not commensurate with the clubs' receipts. The Players Association has asked to be shown which team profit margins cannot support the additional payments.

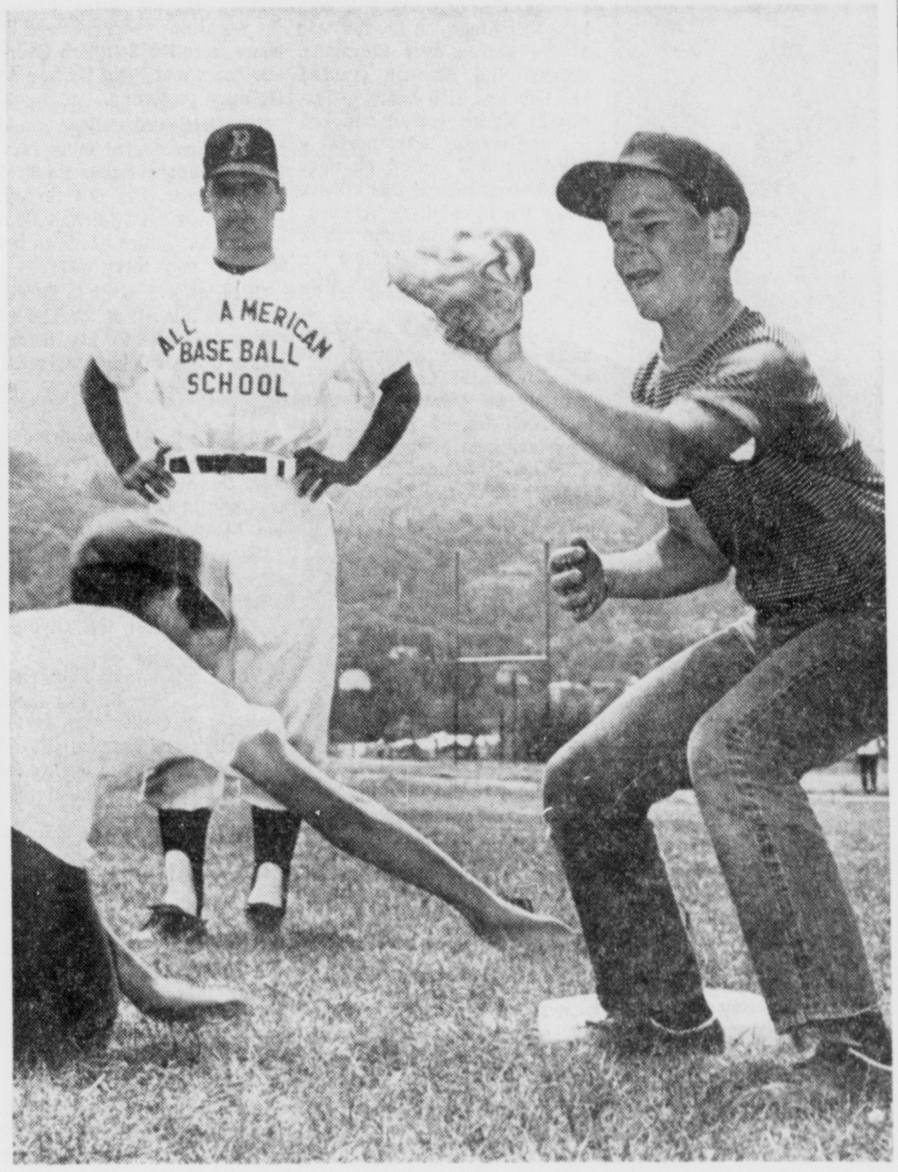
Suyderhoud Tops Jumping Mark In Berkeley Meet

Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo eclipsed his own world water ski jumping record to 154 feet by leaping 157 feet enroute to winning the men's overall title at the Berkeley Waterski champions last Sunday.

However, the record will not count since the meet was not held under world rules.

Mike also won the tricks with 4,350 points and was third in the slalom.

Sharon Bouvie of Novato was first in the junior girls jumping. Selma Selmas of Novato took the senior women's title setting a new regional record in the slalom and Marcy Wyman of Novato was first in junior girls tricks.



SEARCH FOR HOME

Redwood Assistant Coach Gary Coronado looks on as Frank Giorgi searches for the plate under Jim Frassett. The boys are participating in the first two week session of the All-American Baseball School being held daily at Marin Catholic High School. The clinic lasts from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. with skill and agility being the stressed points.

Ashe Gains Wimbledon Semifinals, Ralston Out

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — American amateur Arthur Ashe beat Tom Okker of Holland and top-seeded Rod Laver of Australia edged Californian, Dennis Ralston in a five-set thriller today to enter the semifinals of the Wimbledon open tennis championships.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va., downed the Dutch ameteur, 7-9, 9-7, 6-2.

Laver, the leading pro and Wimbledon winner in 1961 and 1962, scored by 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, over the pro from Bakersfield, Calif.

Ralston was seeded ninth, Okker 12th and Ashe 13th in the upset-studded tournament. The second through eighth seeds had been eliminated earlier.

The Ashe-Okker match was a high-speed thriller that kept the 17,000 fans clustered around the center court in suspense for 2¼ hours.

It was a battle of booming services, and a duel between Okker's terrific top-spun forehand and Ashe's flowing backhand. In the end, the American's service took top honors and his backhand gathered in the vital points in the later stages of the match.

It was Laver's almost unbelievable reflexes that eventually turned the tide in his favor. Ralston, the beaten finalist here two years ago, put up a magnificent show to keep on level terms for as long as he did.

In the women's division, pro Billie Jean King, the defending champion from Long Beach, Calif., reached the quarter-finals but Maria Bueno of Brazil eliminated Rosemary Casals of San Francisco in the fourth round.

Mrs. King, the defending champion in women's singles, polished off Mrs. Fay Moore of Australia, 6-2, 6-4, by coming to the net when her lobbing faltered briefly at the start of the second set.

Miss Bueno, alternately very good or very bad, downed Miss Casals, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3. The Californian grabbed the first set and was ahead 3-1 in the second before Miss Bueno pulled her game together.

With her concentration apparently again broken, Miss Bueno watched as a deep drive by Miss Casals skimmed past in third set. Miss Casals led at the time, 3-2.

After that, the match was all Miss Bueno.

It was almost an ideal day for tennis with a cool breeze fanning the courts following Monday's scorching sun. Officials said play now was on schedule and if no more rains came, the titles would be decided by Saturday.

Britain's Cox First Entry For Tournament

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Mark Cox, England's top-ranked tennis player, is the first foreign entry in the 88th U.S. National Championships Aug. 16-25 at Longwood.

With the national singles combined with the national doubles for the first time in more than 50 years, the field will be limited. Singles will be held to 128 men and 64 women, and doubles to 64 men's teams and 32 women's teams.

Upsy-Daisy A's Are Down

BOSTON J(AI) — The up and down Oakland A's hope to stop a downward spiral tonight against the defending American League champion Boston Red Sox.

Lew Krausse, 5-7, tries to end Oakland's three-game losing streak as he faces Gary Bell, 6-3.

The A's fell to fifth, 10½ games behind American League leading Detroit las night as the Red Sox beat them 3-0.

Before starting the losing streak the A's had reached their highest point of the season — third and 8½ behind.

EXCEPT A RUN

The A's got everything they wanted off Red Sox starter Dick Ellsworth—except a run.

Before Ellsworth left the game with a runner on first and one out in the top of the seventh, he had allowed four hits, a hit batsman and three wild pitches

The Red Sox got an unearned run in the second off A's starter Chuck Dobson, 5-8, when Carl Yastrzemski walked with the bases loaded.

A triple by Ken Harrelson, Reggie Smith's single, a stolen base and Rico Petrocelli's ground single through the middle produced two runs in the sixth.

FUTILE EFFORTS

Typical of Oakland's futile efforts against Ellsworth was the third inning.

John Donaldson led off with an infield single and went to second on a wild pitch. Then Bert Campaneris was hit by a pitch.

Rick Monday missed a bunt attempt and Donaldson was picked off second. Monday and Sal Bando walked, filling the bases.

But Danny Cater popped out and Reggie Jackson struck out on a 3-2 pitch, ending the threat.

Oakland stranded nine base runners, Boston, only four.

Huge Tahoe Track Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A huge squad of 193 has besen invited to the United States men's Olympic Track and Field high altitude training camp as the threat of a boycott by Negro athletes continues.

The Olympic Track and Field Committee announced its selections yesterday, the same day that boycott architect Harry Edwards told newsmen in San Francisco that plans had been approved but refused to reveal what they were.

In announcing the squad, the committee named as many as 10 athletes to some events. Officially, the committee said this was to insure sufficient competition at South Lake Tahoe during the training.

Some, however, saw the big squad as a method of having enough white athletes in training in the event a boycott dramatizing racial unrest becomes a reality. For instance, all eight finalists in the 100-meter dash of the Olympic trials on Saturday were Negroes. Added to the squad were two Caucasians, Jerry Bright of Arizona State and Larry Questad, former NCAA champion from Stanford.

NEW LIFE

Ace hurdler Earl McCullouch of Southern California and distance star Gerry Lindgren of Washington State were given new leases on Olympic life after faltering in the trials.

McCullouch, who still may sign to play professional football with Detroit, tripped over the final hurdle and finished seventh in his only losing race of the year. Lindgren was forced out of the gruelling 10,000 meter race Sunday with an Achilles tendon injury. He lasted 5½ miles of the race slated for about 6½.

Action at Lake Tahoe, which is comparable to the 7,000-foot plus altitude of the Mexico City Olympics site, begins in July with final trials to select the U.S. team slated Sept. 9-17. Olympic conditions will be simulated during these trials.

Tracy Smith, winner of the 10,000 meter race in the Los Angeles trials, termed altitude training an "absolute necessity" for the runners.

ASSURED POSITIONS

Winners of the Los Angeles trials are assured positions on the United States team for Mexico City if they maintain top physical condition and prove they can perform well at altitude. Otherwise, the events at Los Angeles were primarily to reduce the squad to its present size. Several who didn't compete last weekend because of injury — Jim Ryun and Richmond Flowers for instance — were invited to the Tahoe training.

Edwards Does His Bit: No Answer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harry Edwards, architect of a plan to have Negro athletes boycott the Olympic Games, said yesterday that decisions have been reached—but once again he refused to divulge them.

"We won't let you in on it. You will know when we decide to let you know," Edwards told a news conference. "These things take time, and we don't want to move too fast."

Edwards, a San Jose State College sociology teacher, is a leader in the boycott effort among Negro athletes.

Edwards' pronouncements were similar to those he made at Los Angeles during the Olympic Trials on Saturday and Sunday and before he announced yesterday's news conference.

Despite his claims of solidarity in the bid to dramatize dissatisfaction with racial conditions in the United States, several Negro athletes had told newsmen they planned to participate in the Olympic Games.

A Negro newsman asked Edwards how support could be generated for an Olympic boycott if he didn't make the deci-

Who's On First?—Kaline!

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who's on first? Would you believe Al Kaline?

Believe it or not, it was the Detroit slugger, back from five weeks on the disabled list with a broken right arm, trotting out to first base yesterday night and looking for all the world like a latter-day Mickey Mantle.

And there was Kaline, backbone of the Tigers' attack for 16 years, ripping a single to left in the sixth inning to score Mickey Stanley with the tie-breaking run in a 5-1 victory over the California Angels.

Kaline later caught a foul pop and handled three throws from infielders but was charged with an error when he took his foot off the bar on a throw from third basenan Dick Tracewski.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland tripped Minnesta 4-1, the Chicago White Sox downed Baltimore 6-3, Boston beat Oakland 3-0 and Washington turned back the New York Yankees 3-1.

The 33-year-old Kaline played third base for part of one game in 1961 and spent the rest of his career in the outfield. He suffered a broken arm when struck by a pitch in a game at Oakland May 25 and was reactivated yesterday afternoon.

Manager Mayo Smith told him an hour before gametime that he'd be playing first, a move Smith had been considering for some time.

"I was pretty nervous," Kaline confessed. "I never had played first base, not even in high school, and I was kind of shook up when Mayo told me he was going to start me at first. I was lucky there were no real tough plays out there.

"My arm still hurts when I swing, especially if I try to hold up on it."

Kaline was not the only standout as the high-flying Tigers kept their American League lead at 7½ games over Cleveland. Catcher Bill Freehan cracked his 10th and 11th homers, Tracewski hit his second and Lolich, the erratic lefty, hurled a five-hitter and fanned 14, most by a Detroit pitcher this season.

For the light-hitting Tracewski, it was the fifth home run of his big league career and the first time he has hit more than one in a season.

Lou Johnson, the happy-go-lucky outfielder acquired last week from the Chicago Cubs, blasted two homers and Sam McDowell fanned 11 Twins as Cleveland beat Minnesota.

McDowell yielded a leadoff double to Cesar Tovar, then pitched hitless ball until the eighth, when he needed help from Stan Williams after Tony Oliva's run-scoring single.

Whitney Is Tops At USC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ron Whitney, winner of the intermediate hurdles race in the United States Oympic trials, is Southern California's trackman-of-the-year.

Whitney, whose 49.5 clocking Sunday was the fastest time in the world this year, received the honor from the Southern Caifornia Track and Field Writers Association yesterday.

The Occdental College graduate was undefeated in 10 races for the Southern California Striders this year. His 49.3 clocking in last year's USA-Britsh Commonwealth Games has been bettered by only three men.

Other awards went to hurdler Earl McCullouch of the Univer- "most vauable to his team," and to UCLA's John Vaughn and Wayne Collett for "most improved."

McCulouch, who competed in the long jump and relays besides the high hurdles, was the key man in USC's Pacific Eght and NCAA championship.

Vaughn, who vaulted 16-1¼ as a freshman ast year, overcame a back injury early this season to clear 17-4 in the Olympic trials.

Collett, a freshman from Gardena High School, has been timed at 45.4 this year in the 440 meters and finished fifth in the Olympic trials to qualify for the Lake Tahoe trials in September.

Gibson Flirtation With Record Ends

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After Don Drysdale pitched a major league record six straight shutouts and 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings, everyone wondered what he could do for an encore.

He could've gotten the hit that halted Bob Gibson's march toward his records, but he didn't. He could've beaten Gibson when the two clashed Monday night, but he didn't.

Gibson, on the other hand, didn't reach the records, allowing a first-inning run on a wild pitch in St. Louis' 5-1 victory ver Los Angeles.

"I won the game; I'm not disappointed at all," said Gibson, the Cardinal ace who had hurled five sraight shutouts and amassed 47 innings of scoreless pitching.

It didn't take long for Gibson to end the suspense for 54,157 fans at Dodger Stadium, including 10,000 straight A high school students and 3,000 Girl Scouts.

After retiring the first two Dodgers in the first inning, he gave up singles to Len Gabrielson and Tom Haller and then with Ron Fairly at bat, he bounced a pitch past catcher John Edwards for his third wild pitch of the season. Gabrielson scored easily.

"It was all my fault," Gidson said. "It was a wild fast ball."

"It's too bad the way it happened; he's a great pitcher," commented Drysdale, who was knocked out of the game in the seventh inning.

Gibson, however, was around at the finish and picked up his seventh straight victory for a 0-5 record. Drysdale also is 10-5. Gibson lowered his earned run average slightly to 1.13 while Drysdale's ERA rose to 1.46.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta defeated San Francisco 5-1, Philadelphia topped Chicago 6-4 and Cincinnati edged Houston 3-2 in 11 innings.

The Cardinals promptly tied the Dodgers on Julian Javier's second-inning sacrifice fly, then went ahead in the sixth on another sacrifice fly, this one by Orlando Cepeda. Gibson drove in a run with an infield out in the three-run seventh.

Reliever John Boozer got the Phillies out of trouble in the ninth and saved the victory for Chris Short, who at one stretch retired 15 straight Cubs. Boozer retired Glenn Beckert on a bases-loaded game-ending grounder after Willie Smith singled home two runs against Gary Wagner.

Tommy Helms sent Tony Perez home with the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 11th inning for Cincinnati's victory over Houston. Perez walked, stole second and continued to third on John Bateman's wild throw. The Astros' Dave Giusti blanked the Reds on three hits until the ninth when they rallied for two runs and a tie.

Mantle Tops A.L. Backup Players

BOSTON (AP) — Aging Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees will take his usual place with the American League All-Stars. But such super stars as Al Kaline and Frank Robinson will be missing in the annual classic with the National League July 9 in Houston.

Mantle, whose 529 homers rank him fourth in the all-time home run derby, was named to the All-Star team for the 16th year yesterday as Manager Dick Williams completed his 25-player squad.

Williams, rewarded with the AL managerial berth for leading the Boston Red Sox to the 1967 pennant, went pretty much along with the players' voting in filling his bench.

The fourth, fifth and sixth biggest vote-getters in the outfield balloting were chosen. They were Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins, Ken Harrelson of the Red Sox and young Rick Monday of the Oakland Athletics.

Kaline, the Detroit Tigers' slugger sidelined with a broken arm, was not named to the All-Star team for the first time since 1954. Robinson, Baltimore's 1966 Triple Crown winner, has been plagued by injuries this season.

Mantle and Boog Powell of the Orioles were chosen as backup first basemen for starter Harmon Kellebrew of the Twins. Dave Johnson of Baltimore was chosen as the No. 2 second baseman behind Rod Carew of Minnesota.

Other reserves chosen were third baseman Don Wert of Detroit, shortstop Bert Campaneris of Oakland and catchers Joe Azcue of Cleveland and Duane Josephson of the Chicago White Sox.

The league-leading Tigers will be represented by four players, Wert, catcher Bill Freehan, pitcher Denny McLain and outfielder Willie Horton.

The Twins, Red Sox, Orioles and Athletics each will have three representatives. The Yankees and White Sox have two apiece, with California and Washington only one each.

Other starters voted were third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, shortstop Jim Fregosi of the Angels, and outfielders Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox and Frank Howard of Washington.

Whitworth Boosts Golf Money Lead

CINCINNATI (AP) — Kathy Whitworth's victory Sunday in the Lady Carling Open at Baltimore has boosted her lead in the Ladies Professional Golf Association 1968 tournament winnings to more than $2,500.

LPGA headquarters here reported today the $3,000 Miss Whitworth won at Baltimore gives her a total of $20,255 in official tour winnings. She has won three tournaments.

Carol Mann, who fell from the lead a week ago after she had to drop from two tournaments because of a back ailment, stayed in second place with $17,670 after finishing second to Miss Whitworth in the Baltimore tournament. Miss Mann has won four tournaments on the tour.

Mickey Wright, another four-time winner this year, remained in third place with $12,412.

Major change in the standings involved Sandra Post, the surprise winner the week before of the LPGA Open Tournament. Miss Post picked up $1,800 with a third-place finish at Baltimore and jumped from ninth to sixth in the money standings. She now has won $7,771.

This week the pros will be at Moslem Springs, Pa., for the $25,000 USGA Open.

Mill Valley 'A' Crown To Hogan

Bill Hogan won the class A title at the Mill Valley Golf Club's Flag Day tourney Sunday.

Each player was allowed to shoot par plus half his handicap strokes and "plant his flag." Hogan came within 66 feet of the 19th hole.

Paul Baumann placed second with Pete Fisher and Mario Polacchi caught in a third place tie. In the Class B division (handicaps 16 and up) Dr. Dave Schmidt made it to the 18th green and first place while D Holcomb captured second.

NFL Exhibitions Add New Twists

NEW YORK (AP) — Use of an experimental conversion rule, the first match on foreign soil in eight years and 23 interleague games highlights the 68-game preseason schedule of the National Football League and the American Football League.

The Philadelphia Eagles will take on the Detroit Lions Aug. 11 in the 105,000-seat Aztec Stadium in Mexico City. Only one other NFL game—between New York and Chicago in Toronto in 1960—has been played outside the United States.

The interleague matches will serve as an experiment for the proposed conversion rule. In place of the regular conversion kick, the teams will have an option of either running or passing from the two-yard line for one point after each touchdown.

Results will be studied to determine if the rule should be adopted for regular league games.

Six exhibitions will be televised nationally, including the Green Bay - College All-Stars game at Chicago Aug. 3 ABC-TV will carry the Packers-All-Stars, with CBS-TV handling the others, including the Mexico City game.

Other TV games will be Chicago vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Monday, Aug. 19; Green Bay at Dallas, Saturday, Aug. 24; Minnesota at St. Louis, Sunday, Sept. 11; and Baltimore at Dallas, Saturday, Sept. 7.

All 10 AFL teams, including new entry Cincinnati, will play at least one NFL foe. Only three NFL teams — New York, Chicago and Green Bay—won't play teams from the AFL.

A proposed game between the Giants and the New York Jets fell through because of the unavailability of Shea Stadium, home of the Jets.

The AFL's regular season opens Sept. 6-8, and the NFL opens its campaign the following weekend.

Ondine Is Favored In Trans-Atlantic

ST. DAVID'S HEAD, Bermuda (AP)—The 73-foot ketch Ondine, winner of the just-completed Newport-to-Bermuda Yacht Race, is favored to cross the line first in the 1968 transatlantic race which gets under way tomorrow.

But the ketch, skippered by S. A. "Huey" Long of New York, is expected to encounter stiff competition among the field of 33 yachts which will sail from St. David's Head on a 3,700-mile course to Travemunde, West Germany.

Strong contenders will be Germania VI, a yawl, owned by H. V. Howaldt of Essen, Germany; Stromvogel, a ketch owned by Cornelius Bruynzeel of Stellenbosch, South Africa; and Kialoa II, a yawl skippered by John B. Kilroy of Los Angeles.

Each of the top contenders is 73 feet long, the maximum size permitted under the rules of the Cruising Club of America. The smallest craft entered is the 32-foot sloope Tjoo-Hoo, entered by George Leisegang of Berlin, Germany.

The race marks the 100th anniversary of its sponsor, the Norddeutscher Regatta Verein.

After lifting anchor at St. David's Head, the vessels are to sail northeast across the Atlantic to the Skagen reef light vessel off the tip of Denmark and then down through the Kattegat Strait at the mouth of the Baltic Sea to Travemunde.

"We have all the support we need," Edwards replied. "The black athletes know and black people know."

Edwards said the concensus decisions—which he said were made by a concensus—were reached in several meetings of track and field athletes. The last was at the Olympic Trials in Los Angeles last weekend.

"Every athlete out there is in the fold, period," Edwards insisted.

NO DISSENTION

"We forget our differences in the face of a common enemy. We can't afford dissension. There is no dissension whatsoever."

Edwards, chairman of a group calling itself the Olympic Committee for Human Rights, said Negro athletes had not decided whether there would be a Tahoe meet for Olympic team candidates at the high altitude training camp for American athletes.

"There won't be a Tahoe meet if we decide there won't be on," Edwards said.

"We've already figured out a way to stop it."

Merchants Rip Spiders, 14-6

The Mill Valley Merchants sent the San Francisco Spiders spiraling to defeat Saturday with a 14-6 semi-pro baseball win. Ron Gilliam and Skip Schaefer pounded out two homers to aid the scoring while Schaefer, Terry Jarcik, and Gilliam each had three RBI's.

Winning pitcher Dave Perlis went seven innings while allowing only three runs. Frank Uphaus had three hits while Gilliam, Fred Daniele, Schaefer, Ron Laruffa and Terr Jarcik each had two.

Mill Valley committed one error during the contest while the Spiders had three.

Leadoff Batter Shifting Is Attempt To Get Runs

OAKLAND — While it may seem amazing that the A's are the best hitting team in the American League and possess the second best pitching staff, it seems more confounding that, because of these statistics, Oakland isn't on top in games won.

The answer, one would like to think, is runs. Runs, in the long run, win baseball games. Detroit leads in that area and thus leads the league. On the other hand, Cincinnati is the National League's biggest run maker but does NOT lead the league as their pitchers manage to permit many runs for the opposition.

But the point is that the A's, as preposterous as it may seem, do have sufficient hitting and pitching to capture the pennant. All it takes is runs.

MANAGER BOB KENNEDY must have been considering that the other day when he shifted the top of his lineup. Making lineup changes has been a daily deed for Oakland this season. Everyone save Joe DiMaggio has batted in the cleanup spot at one time or another. But Kennedy didn't fuss with the leadoff position. It belonged exclusively to Bert Campaneris, the deft shortstop. One of baseball's hallowed maxims is that the leadoff man must be capable of reaching base and running well on the bases when he does reach. Campy, or "The Flea" as some identify him, does run well.

Yet, he's been hitting only about .250 all year long, which means you can expect him to reach base on a hit once in every four at bats. That's all right. A fine old leadoff man named Ed Stanky hit not much better but somehow managed to get himself walked with frequency.

THAT, CAMPANERIS doesn't do. In the 637 times that Campaneris batted in 1967, he walked on only 36 occasions. Not good. In his first 292 at bats this season, Bert walked only 22 times. Still not good; but yet better than any of his mates, save the dangerous-hitting Rick Monday.

Does not Campy represent a danger on the base paths? Of course — if the No. 2 batter can bunt him along or effectively work the hit-run. Unfortunately, Oakland's No. 2 man, John Donaldson, whom one cynic calls "A Futility Infielder," could do neither. Nor was Donaldson able to hit even .200. He simply represented an out between Campaneris and the No. 3 man, Monday.

What to do?

WHAT KENNEDY did was transpose Campaneris and Donaldson in the order. And the A's won 4 of 5.

Pre-dating this shift when the A's went on the road last week, was an occurrence at home. Donaldson was suddenly starting to take bad pitches and was walking. In seven games he walked seven times — half as many as he'd walked in 49 previous contests. The Futility Infielder wasn't hitting, of course, but he was starting to reach base.

ONE CAN visualize the light bulb glowing over Kennedy's noggin: If Donaldson can keep getting on, Campy would make a fine No. 2 hitter because he can bunt well and work the hit-run.

So they switched. In the next four games, Donaldson walked six times. The A's won three of those four against Anaheim and New York. Amazing.

Kennedy had surrendered Campaneris' leadoff speed, to be sure, but he'd gained in a couple of instances. In addition to Campy moving along John — whereas John rarely did the same for Campy — the A's had eliminated back-to-back left-handed hitters in Donaldson and Monday. And perhaps helped Monday's average, in the long run.

WITH CAMPY on first base ahead of him, Monday would be seeing more fast stuff. Remember how Jim Gilliam batted handsomely behind Maurey Wills? A speedster on first bothers a pitcher, who may (1) concentrate more on the runner than the batter or (2) turn to the fastball to cut down a fraction of a second on stealing time.

THAT'S IN THEORY, of course. What did occur over the first half dozen games in which the top of the order was switched looked like this: Donaldson gained about 15 points on his average; Campy lost three, Monday tumbled about a dozen.

Still, runs were being scored and games won. Not bad for one light bulb.

BOWLING TIPS

The secret of "lifting" the ball at delivery is to follow through with the same arm speed as you had just before letting the ball go. Many bowlers unconsciously give "extra" lift, which causes a skidding, ineffective ball. Again, smoothness is the key. Resist the urge to put special strike power in your ball.

Sky-High American Net Morale

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The United States Davis Cup trio—Arthur Ashe, Clark Graebner and Coach Dennis Ralston—are storming on in the hunt for the Wimbledon title.

"I'm a great believer in togetherness," said Ronald Dell, the Davis Cup team's nonplaying captain from Bethesda, Md.

"Did you see our boys applauding when Ashe was beating John Newcombe out there? Clark Graebner, Charle Pasarell and Dennis Ralston were all at the side of the court leading the cheers.

TEAM SPIRIT

"That is the way to build up team spirit. And I hope team spirit is going to win the Davis Cup back for the United States."

Ashe and Graebner both vanquished professionals yesterday to reach the quarter-finals. Ashe, of Richmond, Va., downed Newcombe, the defending champion, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 1-6, 6-3. Graebner, from New York City, upset Australia's Fred Stolle 6-1, 7-5, 7-5.

Ralston, from Bakersfield, Calif., who can no longer play on the Davis Cup team because he's a professional, swept aside Alexander Metreveli of Russia 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

A fourth American went into the quarter-finals - professional Earl Muchholz of St. Louis, who vanquished Bob Hewitt of South Africa 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The experts were trying to remember when four Americans last made the final eight of Wimbledon. It's so far back nobody could fix the year from memory.

Dell, who made a quick exit in the first round a week ago, said, "I feel absolutely fantastic.

"Ever since I became Davis Cup captain, I've said we've got to lift up the image of American tennis in the world. I think we can do it with the players we have on the Davic Cup squad."

Ralston practices with the Davis Cup team at London's Queen's Club every morning before play starts at Wimbledon.

Ashe said Dell has given a sense of urgency to the Davis Cup team.

RIDING TIME

"He rides me, just as George MacCall used to ride me when he was captain," Ashe said.

"I guess I need to be ridden. By nature I'm a very excitable person. I am kinf of lethargic, and I need to be browbeaten."

Graebner faced Ray Moore of South Africa in the seminfinals. Moore—the man who beat Spanish pro Andres Gimeno—eliminated Tom Edlefsen of Berkeley, in a five setter Monday.

Buchholz played another Australian pro, Tony Roche.

Kentucky Derby Tale Out In Thick Volume

By JOHN GUINIVEN

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)—At 40 cents a page, the story behind the controversial and confusing 1968 Kentucky Derby can be purchased for $464.80—or $454.80 more than it cost to watch the May 4 race from the comfort of the grandstand.

Some may want to wait for the movie.

The 1,162 pages of mimeographed testimony, which became a matter of public record when it was officially filed by the Kentucky Court of Appeals Monday, was given behind closed doors to Churchill Downs stewards May 13-15.

A public hearing into the affair, originally scheduled for June 10 but postponed via court injunctions, now seems to be set for "sometime in August."

Dancer's Image raced to a length and a half victory in the run for the roses but was disqualified when the illegal pain killer phenybutazone was discovered in his system. Owner Peter Fuller, a millionaire Boston car dealer, has since retired the colt.

Chairman George Eggerof the commission acknowledged Monday some persons have asked that the hearings be closed but said, "I'm inclined to think they'll be open—not much to hide now."

Those who took the time to read the mountain of testimony would have to agree. The open hearing will most likely be a replay—and not the instant kind—of what the stewards were told in private.

That Dancer's Image was disqualified when a post race urinalysis showed traces of the illegal pain killer phenybutazone and that Dr. Alexander Harthill, the colt's veterinarian, dumped "white-like granules" in the feed two days after the derby because "we're in trouble."

Trainer Lou Cavalaris, suspended for 30 days, told the stewards that Harthill "salted" the feed after the derby. He said it was a "misguided attempt to do me a favor."

Arthur Grafton and Edward S. Bonnie, attorneys for Fuller, removed what they called "phony evidence" from the stable and took it to Grafton's house in a Louisville suburb.

The attorneys then told the stewards what they had done and why:—"to save headlines from here to San Francisco." But, when the brand was tested, investigators discovered the doctored portion was missing.

The racing commission cited both attorneys for "corrupt and fraudulent practice" and is currently considering barring them from the state's racing facilities.

Novato Gets Top Hurling

It was a very good day for the Novato Legion team Saturday when it defeated Napa 10-2

Mike Timmel pitched a 12-strikeout game while walking seven. Saturday saw the end to Timmels no hit pitching record, too with Mike hurling 28⅓ scoreless innings.

The big hitters of the day were Gary Trono with a single and two RBI's, John Sjoblom with a double and two RBI's and Barry Barringer with a double.

Mark Newsome threw two men out at home from his left field position in the seventh and ninth innings.

Yesterday saw Vallejo coming to Novato and losing 6-0. Steve McNally performed pitching chores by hurling a 10-strikeout game and walking only one Post 515B team member.

Novato is now first half champion with a league record of 8-1.

Brandon Grabs Softball Crown

Brandon Tire won the San Rafael Recreation Department's B League Softball Championship last night when they defeated Two Turtles 3-0.

John Brookman scored two runs while Mike Anthony drove in the go-ahead run in the sixth inning to give Brandon Tire the championship.

It was a duel on the mound as Orr Lanew of Brandon and Jerry Hardman of Two Turtles each hurled a three-hit game.

Another Comeback For Patterson

NEW YORK (UPI) — Floyd Patterson is set to make another of his countless comebacks.

Patterson, the only man ever to win the heavyweight title, lose it, win it back and then lose it again, will fight Jimmy Ellis in Stockholm on Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the title.

Patterson, who hasn't fought since he lost a close 12-round decision to Jerry Quarry on Oct. 28, 1967, in the WBA elimination tournament still has hopes of winning the crown for a third time. Joe Frazier is recognized as the titleholder in five states.

Ellis won the WBA version by outpointing Ellis on April 27.

Patterson has lost just six fights in his long and checkered career against 46 victories and one draw. Ellis is 26-6.

A formal announcement of the fight is expected within a few days.

NATANYA, Israel (UPI) — Bobbie Fischer, U.S. champion from New York, drew in all three of his games but finished 3½ points ahead of his nearest challenger in winning Israel's International Chess Tournament yesterday.

He drew with Canadian Abraham Yanofsky, the runner-up, and Yair Kraidman and Yosef Porat, both of Israel.

OAKLAND — The Oakland Oaks said yesterday they have signed three members of their American Basketball Association team for next season.

The three are Ira Harge, their leading rebounder with a 12.7 average, fourth best in the ABA: Dave Lee, who sank 85 per cent of his free throws, and Mel Peterson, who sank 82 per cent.

SAN DIEGO — Les Cook, trainer and road secretary for the San Diego Padres baseball team since 1936, died of a heart attack yesterday. He was 73.

Cook was in his 56th year in baseball, having started as a catcher with the old Vernon team in the Pacific Coast League in 1913.

He suffered a heart seizure as he was making preparations for the Padres next road trip. He died at Clairmont General Hospital.

Cook's ambition to become a major league trainer was finally realized this year when San Diego obtained a franchise in the National League. He was elected to the San Diego baseball hall of fame in 1966.

Cook is survived by his widow, Blanche. Funeral services will be Wednesday here.

AUTO RACING

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Leroy Yarbrough drove a 1968 Mercury to an average speed of 187.049 miles per hour and set a record in qualifying for Thursday's Firecracker 400 stock car race.

BASKETBALL

HELSINKI, Finland — The U.S. Olympic basketball team defeated Finland's National team 82-60 in an exhibition game.

DETROIT — The Gold Cup hydroplane race was washed out for the second straight day by strong winds and rough water and was rescheduled for Sept. 1.

MINEOLA, N.Y. — Officials of Roosevelt Raceway reached agreement with the Standardbred Owners Association ending a dispute which halted harness racing at the track for three days.

HORSE RACING

STANTON, Del. — Silly Squaw, $5, just lasted to nose out Promise in the Irish Lancer Purse at Delaware Park.

NEW YORK — Buck Run, $3.60, held on to an early lead and won Aqueduct's Tremont Stakes by a nose over Top Knight.

BOSTON — Red Royalty, $8.80, romped to a two-length victory in the Pleasant Valley Purse at Suffolk Downs.

OCEANPORT, N.J. — Isgala, $9, barely held off the fast finishing Charles Elliott to win the Football Writers Purse at Monmouth Park.

CHICAGO — Pit Stop, $6.40, took the lead at the final turn and won Arlington's Hill Gail Purse by one length over Strongman.

Today is Tuesday, July 2, the 184th day of 1968 with 182 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1776 the Continental Congress formally approved a resolution which became the Declaration of Independence from Britain. The document was signed two days later.

In 1881 President Garfield was shot by Charles Guiteau in Washington, D.C. He died Sept. 19.

In 1937 famed American aviatrix Amelia Earhart, and copilot Frederick Noonan were reported lost in the Pacific. They were never found.

In 1964 President Johnson signed a new Civil Rights bill.

A thought for the day: French playwright Pierre Corneille said, "Who is all-powerful should fear everything."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Good Player Will Try To Avoid Unnecessary Finesse—Even Low

One object of good play is to avoid taking unnecessary finesses. It's easy to turn your back on a finesse for the king or queen of a key suit, but you don't often have the problem of refusing to finesse against an eight-spot.

KING LEAD

West opens the king of clubs, and you win the dummy with the ace. Now you can cash the other two side aces and bring the game home by crossruffing — if you can win seven trump tricks.

The danger is that one opponent has a singleton club and the other has a singleton diamond. If you are both careless and unlucky you may ruff the second round of clubs or diamonds and find that the next opponent overruffs and returns a trump. This would limit you to six trump tricks, and you would be down one.

Ruffing with dummy's six or with your own seven is a type of finesse. Your ruff will be safe if the eight of hearts is held by second-hand rather than by fourth-hand. You would take this type of finesse if you had to, but this is the type of hand in which the finesse is unnecessary.

HIGH RUFFS

Cash all three of the side aces and ruff a diamond with the nine of hearts. Then ruff a club with the ten of hearts. Continue to ruff diamonds and clubs with high trumps, thus adding six trump tricks to the three side aces.

CLUB NEXT

With the first nine tricks safely stashed away, you can then lead a club or a diamond (depending on which hand has the lead) and ruff in the opposite hand with the six or seven of trumps.

Either the six or the seven of trumps is sure to win a trick and your game is therefore quite safe.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♥ 5 3 2
♦ K Q 8 7 3 2
♣ 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds.

You would jump to four if partner's suit were a major, but you avoid getting past three no trump when his suit is a minor. If partner cannot bid over two diamonds, you will not miss a makable game.

Cured Patients Still Want To Freeload

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — State officials have had to order a number of cured tuberculosis patients to leave a sanitarium near Calcutta.

They said some of the patients enjoyed the free care and had stayed on as long as five years after they were pronounced cured. Meanwhile more than 500 patients were on the waiting list for admission.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Speculative Buying Needs Close Check

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm pretty much of a novice and disturbed over my small holdings of W. R. Grace and Continental Air Lines. I also own a mutual fund, 25 RCA, 50 McLean Industries and 100 each of Heller and North Central Airlines. I'm considering Fruehauf (containerization) and Aqua-Chem (desalting). Should I switch into these from Grace and Continental Air Lines? — R.H.

A. Except for RCA, your holdings are speculative with some longer-range appeal. I'd cut back Heller and North Central Airlines to more moderate amounts, hold the rest and buy 25 shares each of Aqua-Chem and Fruehauf.

Despite near-term uncertainties for the airlines, Continental is efficiently managed, the major part of its revenue comes from nonmilitary operations and new routes are a future possiblity.

W. R. Grace recently announced its intention to drill for uranium in Wyoming which, if successful, might lead to a joint venture with a Denver-based mining firm.

You'll be sufficiently represented through McLean Industries and Fruehauf. From now on watch your list closely for any industry developments that might imply adjustments.

Q. New issues interest me. How can I learn when they are going on sale so that I can make some evaluations and, if desired, put in my orders? — E.M.

A. Since you live in a metropolitan area, you may be able to find in the financial department of your public library or through your bank or brokerage firm two weekly publications: Investment Dealers' Digest and Commercial & Financial Chronicle. Each includes a comprehensive list of new issues in registration. The accompanying data will help you to decide whether to request a prospectus for further study. May I suggest, however, that you exercise maximum caution and not overextend yourself?

Market Up Modestly For The Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in fairly active trading.

The market was up from the start and improved during most of the session. The final gain was moderate, however.

Volume for the first four hours was 9.45 million shares, compared with 8.1 million Monday.

Gains outnumbered losses by some 150 issue.

American Broadcasting eased a point of the 11⅛ it gained Monday on news of a tender from Hughes Tool Co. ABC management said it opposed the Hughes offer.

Loew's Theatres gained about 4 points amid comment on profits it had from its holdings of Commercial Credit, even though its tender offer for Commercial Credit fizzled. Control Data — now with apparently a clear path towards acquiring Commercial Credit—was up 3½.

Montgomery Ward rose another point after its gain of 1⅝ yesterday on news it was considering merger with Container Corp. The latter was down fractionally. It was reported the respective boards of the companies had approved the merger in principle.

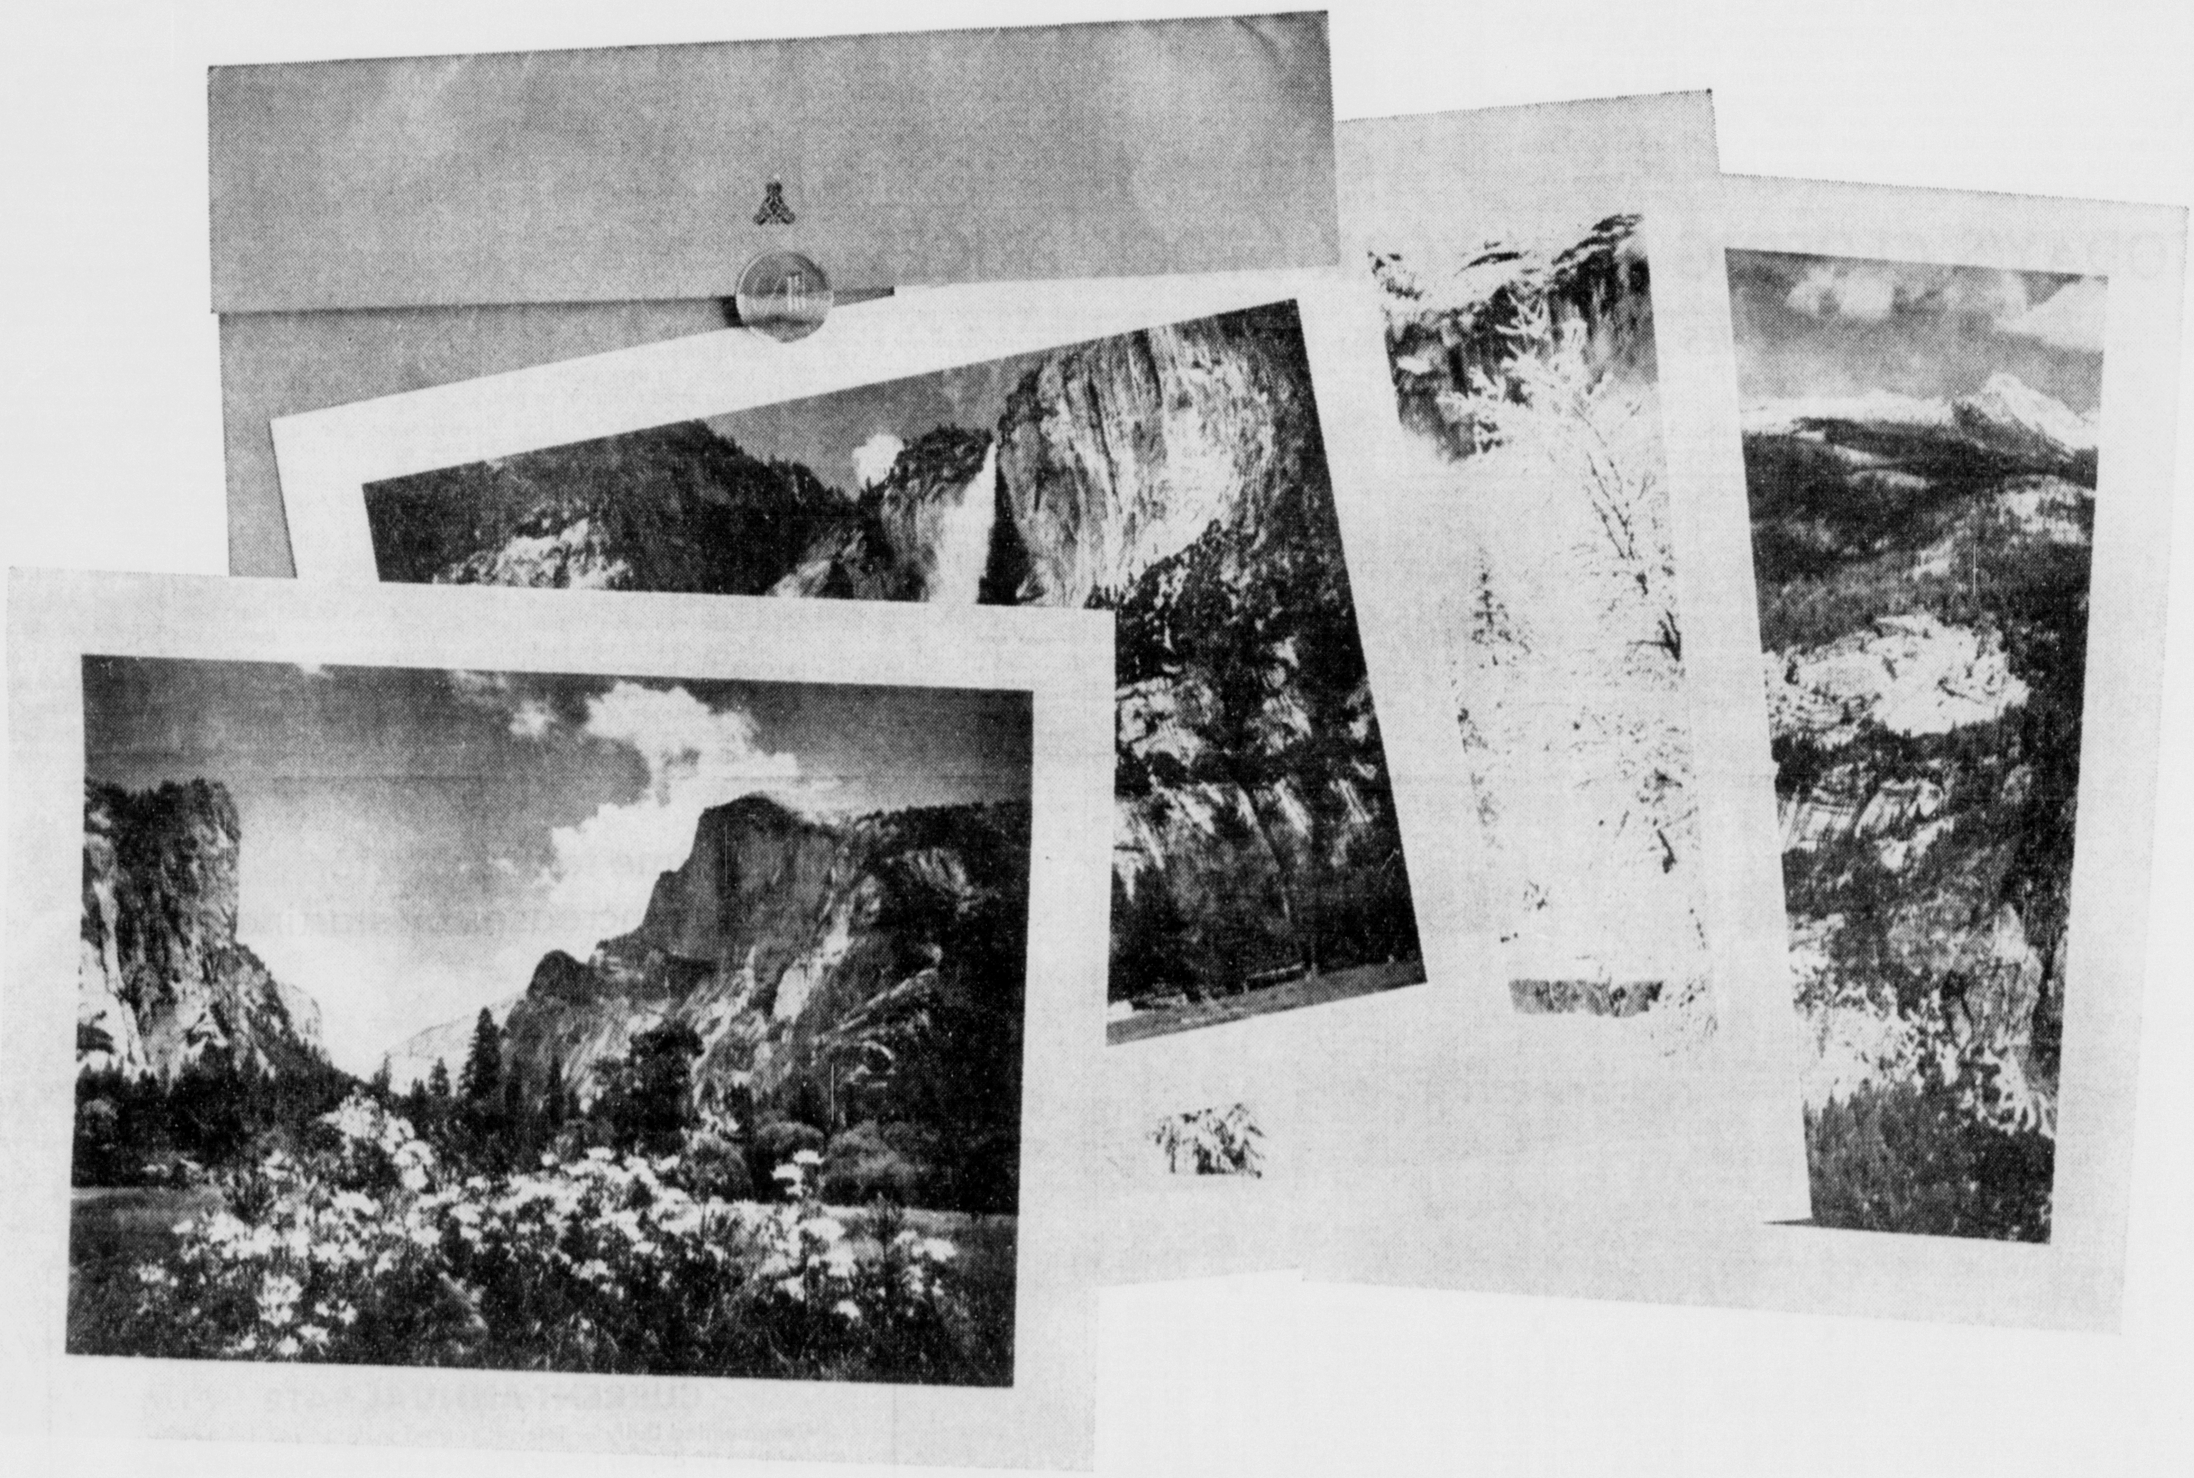
You'd probably have to go through a dozen rolls of film to get the 4 breathtaking pictures of Yosemite we're giving away free.



As part of our ten day July open house we'll be giving away four beautiful 11 x 14 photos of Yosemite. Ready for framing.

At American Savings an open house means refreshments for everybody. And an opportunity to add to your savings or open a new account at America's highest interest on insured savings: 5% compounded daily. To encourage you to save we'll pay you interest from July 1st, even if you can't make it in until the 10th. That's a significant amount when you consider that when your interest compounds daily with your principal, you actually earn 5.13% over the year. (Not to mention our special American Bonus Account which pays even more.) With inflation being what it is, you'll be glad you put away a little more now.

Naturally, we're closed Thursday, July 4th. But we are open Saturday, July 6th between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

And all you have to do to get your set of Yosemite photos is make an appearance.
